Charts Depict Interlocking Directors of Big Financial Institutions.

EIGHTEEN PICKED AS ILLUSTRATION

Total of 180 Members Hold 385 Directorships in Forty-one Banks.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Elaborate charts were presented to the house "money trust" committee today giving lists of "interlocking directors" in a number of leading financial and industrial institutions, also a table "showing affiliations of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., Guaranty Trust company, Bankers Trust company, First National bank and National City bank and other corporations through interlocking directorates."

This was in pursuance of that branch of the committee's inquiry bearing on so-called "concentration of money and credits."

The charts are very voluminous and contain a mass of details. Prepared summary of the table on interlocking directorates says:

"This table shows the affiliations of eighteen selected financial institutions, namely: J. P. Morgan & Co., New York; First National bank, New York; Guaranty Trust company, New York; Bankers Trust company, New York; National City bank, New York; Kuhn, Loeb & Co., New York; National Bank of Commerce, New York; Hanover National bank, New York; Chase National bank, New York; Astor Trust company, New York; New York Trust company, New York; Blair & Co., New York; Speyer & Co., New York; Continental and Commercial National bank, Chicago; First National bank, Chicago; Illinois Trust and Savings bank, Chicago; Kidder, Peabody & Co., Boston and New York; Lee Higginson & Co., Boston and New York, with the greater banks, trust companies and insurance companies and transportation systems and producing and trading corporations and public utility corporations, through representation upon their boards of directors.

How They Reach Out.

"The firm members and directors whose affiliations are thus shown number 180. In the aggregate they hold 385 directorships in forty-one banks and trust companies having total resources of $3,832,000,000 and total deposits of $2,834,000,000; fifty directorships in eleven insurance companies having total assets of $2,646,000,000; 155 directorships

SOUTH BEND GIRL A FIEND'S VICTIM

Hulda Bowman, 16 Years Old, Can Hardly Survive Her Injuries.

SKULL IS FRACTURED

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 18.—Hulda Bowman, a 16-year-old girl, was brutally assaulted today by an unidentified man whom she admitted to the house under pretense of making some repairs. The assault was committed with a screw driver which the girl had furnished for use in the pretended work. There is no hope for her recovery.

The girl was discovered lying unconscious two hours after the assault was committed. There is an ugly gaping wound in her temple supposed to have been made with the screw driver. Physicians say her skull is fractured and there are indications she was criminally assaulted.

CANNOT REACH OIL OFFICIAL

Efforts to Serve William Rockefeller Futile Since June.

MR. MORGAN IS CALLED

Washington, Dec. 18.—J. Pierpont Morgan appeared before the house money trust investigating committee at its afternoon session today. His daughter, Mrs. Satterlee; his son, J. P. Morgan, jr., as well as Mrs. George B. Case and Mr. T. W. Lamont, accompanied him. The party took seats to the right of the committee table, just behind the witness chair. Mr. Morgan talked with his son and daughter while he was waiting to be called.

WILLIAM ROCKEFELLER
Upon Whom Money Trust Committee Cannot Get Service.

Mr. Morgan took the stand at 2:40 o'clock this afternoon. Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the committee, immediately began his examination.

Mr. Morgan was on the stand only twenty-two minutes when the committee recessed until tomorrow, when he will again take the stand.

Chairman Pujo, Mr. Untermeyer, Mr. Lindabury and Mr. Nichol held a conference while waiting for the committee to arrive. Mr. Untermeyer said because of the lack of witnesses Mr. Morgan might be called late this afternoon for a brief examination, but that he thought it unlikely he would take the stand before tomorrow.

Sergeant-at-arms Riddell of the house said he and his deputies had tried in vain since June 10 to serve Wm. Rockefeller. Mr Untermeyer, counsel for the committee, placed in the records telegrams to Mr. Rockefeller asking him to accept service or signify his willingness to appear. He said he had received no reply.

Pujo Makes Ctatement.

Chairman Pujo then made a statement covering the efforts of the committee to serve Mr. Rockefeller.

He said a certificate from Dr. Walter F. Chapple saying that Mr. Rockefeller was ill, and under his care had been received by the committee. He said the committee informed Mr. Rockefeller that the certificate would not be recognized unless he accepted service. The following efforts to serve him failed. Mr. Pujo said the committee has the power to ask the house for a writ of attachment to force Mr. Rockefeller to appear.

Selee Newman, a special deputy sergeant at arms, testified that he had searched both Mr. Rockefeller's town house and his country house.

Four Big Insurance Companies.

Tables purporting to show that four great life insurance companies, the New York ,Equitable, Mutual and Metropolitan would have at the present rate of increase assets totaling $4,318,000,000 in 1931 were presented to the committee by Lawrence Scudder, the committee's accountant who was called as an expert witness by Mr. Untermeyer. "On Dec. 31, 1911," said Mr. Scudder, "the total assets of the four companies were $2,138,000,000."

Philip Scudder, another statistician, then took the stand to put into the record charts purporting to show "concentration of money and credits" by interlocking directors. He outlined his method of preparing the charts, saying they were based on a list of directors "made as up to date as possible."

Lines to "Joe"

Come, tell us, Joe, we want to know
Just why you treat the ladies so:
You seem to be their bitter foe.
Is't true?

They want to name a woman cop;
But on the plan we've seen you hop.
"Begone! Begone! This thing must stop!"
Cried you.

Their cause, you say, is surely lost
Because the board can't meet the cost.
And so their hopes received a frost,
We're told.

But, Joe, this is the Christmas time
When hearts ring true in joyous chime
And spread their warmth, despite the clime
So cold.

So, won't you melt a little bit
And think of all the benefit
To come a-trailing after it
To stay?

Can't you cut off some expense—
Service somewhere else condense—
And meet this need which seems immense
Today?

RABBI LOVITSCH TO TAKE CHARGE

Will Conduct First Service at Local Synagogue in January.

MAN OF PROMINENCE

Rabbi Meyer Lovitsch, of Paducah, Ky., has been selected by the congregation of Achduth Veshalom, to take charge of the pastorate in this city, succeeding Rabbi William Rice, who resigned several weeks ago. Rabbi Lovitsch was in the city four weeks ago and in a sermon before the Jewish congregation made a most favorable impression. He will conduct his first service as rabbi of the local synagogue January 7.

Rabbi Lovitsch is a gifted scholar and an eloquent orator. For several years he has been in charge of a congregation in Paducah, and comes to Fort Wayne highly recommended by many prominent rabbis of the country.

The new rabbi is married and his wife will join him here after a visit with her parents in Cincinnati. Rabbi Lovitsch will be the first experienced rabbi the local congregation has had in many years. His immediate predecessors have come to Fort Wayne directly from college.

HOW LETTERS GOT TO HEARST

Senator Foraker Before Committee Produces a Statement.

NEWSPAPER MAN PAID HANDSOMELY

Archbold Missives Cost Him Total of Something Like $34,000.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Former Senator J. B. Foraker today produced a statement before the senate campaign expenditures investigating committee prepared by Gilchrist Stewart, purporting to be based on a description by W. W. Winkfield and Charles Stump took the "Archbold letters" from the Standard Oil offices and sold them to a representative of Wm. R. Hearst.

"Mr. Hearst said yesterday that he did not know how the letters were procured," declared the former senator. "Such a preposterous story as that you might tell to the marines, but to no one else."

Mr, Foraker said Stewart in 1908 sent to him a newspaper clipping in which W. A. Ullman, attorney for C. P. Taft, was reported to have consulted with Mr. Hearst about the letters before they were published and suggested that Ullman, Mr. Taft and John T. Cronin, the latter formerly connected politically with Mr. Hearst, be called as witnesses.

Mr. Foraker declared that about a week ago he had Mr. Stewart go to Chicago where Winkfield was working as a waiter at 2026 Wabash avenue and ascertain what he knew. Upon the interview he said Stewart had based his report. What that report contained, Mr. Foraker proceeded to detail, declaring that he did not vouch for its accuracy, but added that Winkfield could be called.

How Letters Were Sold.

According to the statement presented Winkfield and Stump noticed a newspaper item about the sale of letters and, taking some from the Archbold file, tried to sell them, but failed. Finally, they wrote a letter to the New York American making the offer and the next day called up. They insisted upon talking to Mr. Hearst, but were contented to meet a "representative" in the "Little Savoy" saloon. As a result of that conference they went the next day to the private editorial office of the New York American, where a man named Eldridge talked to them. They were told that Mr. Hearst stated that they were performing a great public

ALLIES TRY TO FIGURE WAY OUT

If Turkey Persists in Boycott Unless Greece Signs Pact.

AWAITING A REPLY

London, Dec. 18.—The peace plenipotentiaries of the Balkan allies came together today to decide on their plan of action in the eventuality of Turkey declining to raise her boycott of the Hellenic delegates unless Greece signs the armistice.

The allies, in the course of yesterday's meeting of the peace conference at St. James palace, made it quite clear that they would not enter into negotiations without Greece being allowed to participate, and Dr. S. Daneff, the leader of the Bulgarian delegation, is quoted as saying "If on Thursday the reply of the Ottoman delegates is not satisfactory, we will break off negotiations and meet again at the Tchatalja line. That will be the end of Turkey in Europe."

The concensus of opinion here, however, is that the present obstacle will be surmounted by the delegates and that the real danger point will be over the future possession of the fortress of Adrianople. As far as can be seen at present only mediation by an outside power can solve this problem.

Incidentally, under the alphabetical arrangement of the presiding officer of the peace conference, tomorrow's chairman should be the leader of the Greek mission. It is assumed that a substitute will be chosen pending the settlement of the controversy.

Servia Takes Important Step.

Servia took an important step in the direction of peace today by intimating her willingness to leave the matter of an outlet on the Adriatic sea entirely in the hands of the European powers.

In announcing the decision of the Servian government to take this step the head of the Servian peace delegates added that Servia's attitude was a perfectly moderate one and that, relying on the justice of her claim and the sympathies of the European governments she had decided to take the course indicated.

In regard to the tension between Austria-Hungary and Servia, it is generally expected that direct negotiations between those two nations will begin immediately. These will take the form of conferences between the Austrian foreign minister and M. Jovanovitch, the newly appointed Servian minister at Vienna, and the object aimed at will be the realization of the mutual desire of the two countries for the clearing up of the situation and the removal of misunderstandings.

C. E. Palmer, superintendent of transportation of the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company, is visiting the towns along the line today.

JUDGE'S DEFENSE NEARS ITS CLOSE

Many Witnesses Testify to Archbald's Good Reputation.

PREPARE TO SUM UP

Washington, Dec. 18.—The end of the testimony in the defense of Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court was expected before night ,when the senate re-convened today as a court of impeachment.

A large number of witnesses were on hand to testify further to Judge Archbald's reputation and to bring out points which the defense has emphasized in the attempt to show the judge has been wrongfully accused and that his business activities have been innocent of any connection with the use of his powers as a judge.

Judge Archbald's attorneys expected to finish their witnesses before the conclusion of today's session of the court. The closing arguments will require some time for preparation. It is expected the court of impeachment will accept the suggestions of the house managers and the attorneys for the accused as to the time desired for summing up the case.

The end of the trial is not expected before the first week in January. Closing arguments will be made then, it is expected and a decision by the senate within a few days after congress re-assembles as to whether Judge Archbald shall be removed from office.

WILSON UP FOR AN EARLY START

President-Elect in Conference With New York Leaders.

GETTING IN TOUCH

New York, Dec 18.—Governor Wilson was up early today in order to hold conferences with a number of prominent democratic leaders who are in the city and who heard his speech at the Southern society dinner last night in which the president-elect promised to provide "a gibbet of public disgrace" for any man who should attempt to start a panic in the United States.

Chief among those whom the governor expected to see were Wm. F. McCombs, chairman of the democratic national committee; Vice Chairman McAdoo, Col. Elam House, of Houston, Texas, and A. Mitchell Palmer, democratic national committeeman from Pennsylvania.

Having been out of touch with conditions here during his vacation in Bermuda, the governor will go over matters with these leaders in order to get a perspective on affairs, political and otherwise.

The governor planned to remain in the city until late in the afternoon.

DECIDES AGAINST LEVEE.

Princeton, Ind., Dec. 18.—Judge Clements today rendered a decision against proposed Rozeman levee, to protect farm lands from overflow by the Patoko and Wabash rivers. It would have cost several million dollars, it is said.

COLLEGE LABORERS STRIKE.

Champaign, Ill, Dec. 18.—Saying working conditions are unsanitary and the salaries, the highest of which is $45 a month, one not sufficient to support their families, twenty-two laborers of the college of agriculture struck this morning. The men are under civil service.

POURS WRATH ON PLOTTERS

Politicians Stood Between Unions and Courts, Declares Attorney.

ARGUMENTS OPEN IN DYNAMITE CASE

Trial is Most Important in Recent Years, Contends Mr. Noel.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 18.—Politicians "standing between labor unions and the courts" were blamed for the McNamara dynamite plots at the outset of the government's argument to the jury at the trial of the forty accused "bomb plotters" today.

Pronouncing the series of explosions scattered over the country as a conspiracy "more dastardly and more threatening to society than the crime of an individual" James W. Noel, special assistant district attorney, told the jurors they were called upon to render verdicts in the most important trial in recent years.

"Organized crime has here appeared to an amazing degree," said Mr. Noel, "and it was carried on and it grew, because locally the arm of the law failed. Had local authorities done their duty this conspiracy would not have spread, but it appears that politicians for obvious reasons stood between the unions and criminals and the local courts.

"A strike of the iron workers was called. Plain assaults became murderous assaults; then, unchecked by the local courts and favored by politicians, the criminals grew bolder and dynamite and nitroglycerine was resorted to.

"The Los Angeles Times building was blown up with the murder of twenty-one persons. After that reckless disregard of life came the wanton desire to take life. Of the hundred explosions that occurred in the United States the government has proved that ninety-two explosions were on the property of the open shop constructors or firms which refused to recognize the International Association of Bridge and Iron workers. The destruction was done at the direction of the union's highest officers, because they held that a contractor must either deal with the union or go out of business.

"Think of the wholesale murders toward which this conspiracy was drifting when the federal government stepped in. It had been testified that a plot was formed to destroy the water mains of Los Angeles and then burn the city from the face of the earth, because that city was the hot bed of the open shop policy. Herbert S. Hockin, the Iago of this conspiracy, had knowledge of a plot to blow up a passenger train filled with people, because that train

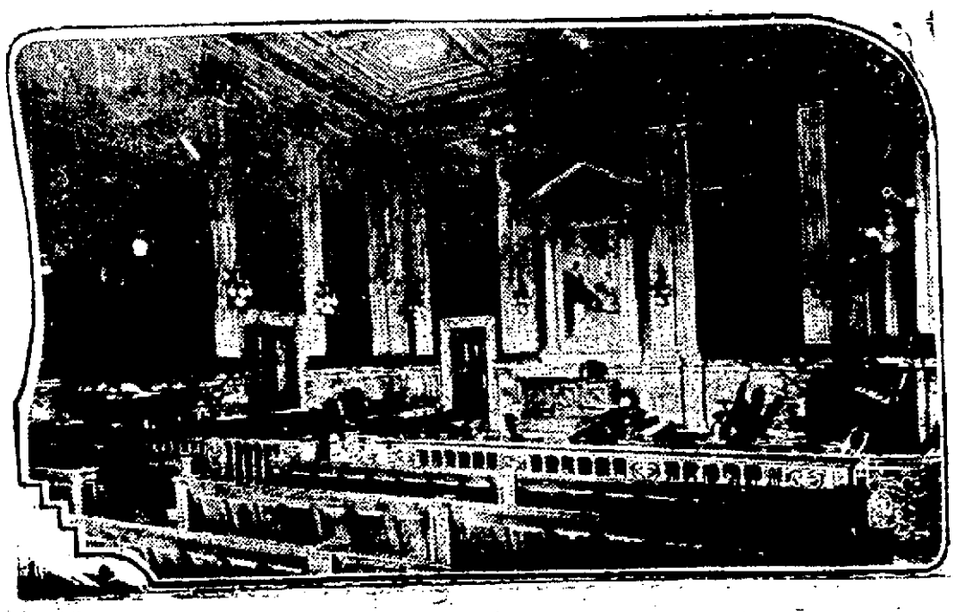
JUDGE PURVIS' DECISION MAKES KOKOMO AGAIN WET.

Tipton, Ind., Dec. 18.—Judge James Purvis, in the Tipton circuit court, has overruled the demurrer in the case of Samuel McCutcheon against Gilbert D. Jay and others in the Tipton circuit court, and gave a ruling covering seven pages. The decision again makes Kokomo "wet" and the burden of the next local option election will rest on the "drys."

The decision of Judge Purvis was along the same lines as that of the late Judge Leroy Nash, in the Kokomo and Marion cases. Kokomo people who were here said an effort would be made at once by the men who formerly held license to engage in business again.

INTERIOR OF UNITED STATES COURT ROOM AT INDIANAPOLIS WHERE DYNAMITE CONSPRACY CASE IS BEING ARGUED.



Fred Meyer's Bread Basket

LAST THURSDAY, about 8 o'clock in the morning Fred Meyers, driver for the Myron Downing bakery, stopped, as usual, at the Herrmann grocery, 1412 Walton avenue, to carry in a big basket of bread and to return to the wagon with the same basket containing such loaves as were left over from the preceding day's purchase. This required but a few minutes' time, but when Fred emerged with the re-loaded basket, the rig was nowhere in sight. The driver looked in all directions and made inquiries of several people on the street, but none had seen the outfit. But slightly dismayed, the driver started out with his basket to find his horse and wagon. After inspecting some of the off-shooting streets, he carried his basket quite a distance south on Walton avenue, passed beyond the Wabash tracks, but no trace of the outfit was discovered.

Somewhat perplexed and with a growing feeling that he was losing valuable time, even if nothing real calamitous had happened, he toted his basket northward again and ran across to the Graf grocery, 1813 Lafayette street, thinking the horse might have made a stop there. Nothing doing. By this time Fred had made up his mind that it would possibly expedite matters somewhat if he deposited his basket and continued his search unhampered by unnecessary freight. After visiting two or three other places, he started south once more, retracing his first steps in the search, but extended them, this time, to the Doyle grocery, 2301 Winter street. And there, complacently waiting for someone to say "giddap," was the wanderer. He had been there a little over an hour and had walked all the way to get there without exciting any notice from anybody. In the meantime the driver had traveled on foot about a mile and a half.

Fred hurried back after his basket and probably exceeded the speed limit in his endeavor to make up lost time in delivering.

Something About Dr. Friedman, Now Much in the Public Eye.

CLAIMS HIGH HONORS

(Editor's Note—On November 6, last, Dr. Frederick Franz Friedmann of Berlin announced to the Berlin Medical society that he had discovered a serum with which, during the last two years, he had treated and cured more than 600 cases of bone and lung tuberculosis. The leading medical journals of the world are now discussing Dr. Friedman's claims and millions of the afflicted are eagerly waiting for confirmation or rejection of the claims by Dr. Friedmann's fellow scientists. In the following article Correspondent William G. Shepherd, who recently secured from Dr. Friedmann an exclusive interview amplifying his claims, gives an interesting personality sketch of the young Berlin claimant to the highest honors in medical science.)

(By William G. Shepherd.)

Berlin, Dec. 18.—On Christmas day, in a small laboratory in Berlin, there'll be a tired-looking, sad-faced young doctor at work, just as he is at work on all other days.

With a small syringe he will be putting into the bodies of one after another of his huge list of patients the wonderful fluid with which he claims to have cured hundreds of tuberculosis victims in Germany within the last two years. He is Dr. Friedrick Franz Friedmann.

All the pleas of physicians and scientists for long interviews don't keep him away from his job, that same job being to cure consumption.

DR. FRIEDRICH FRANZ FRIEDMANN.

Friedmann has tuberculosis on the brain. He got it at school. The terrible little germ haunted him like some giant specter. The tiny but awful atom of death was to him what the dragon was to St. George.

His parents wanted him to be a genteel, easy-going physician. But he got terribly in earnest. He spent most of the time in his laboratory, fooling with test tubes, microscopic slides and foolish turtles. He quit the social circle in which his family moved. Later he explained that he had no time to put on evening clothes.

He went to Italy for a rest on the plea of his parents, and continued his studies on tuberculosis there.

He went to China. There he saw thousands of Chinesedying of tuberculosis, and, instead of touring China, he studied tuberculosis in Canton.

In turn, he visited most of the civilized and oriental countries of the world, but everywhere "the thorn was in his couch" because he always saw about him his taunting enemy, the tuberculosis germ.

He is only thirty-six years of age and has led a tense life. Music is his means of relaxation. He has a small pipe organ in one corner of his office which he often plays.

About his rooms I counted ten statuettes and pictures of Napoleon.

"He has been my model," said the doctor. "I have tried to fight my enemy unrelentingly as he fought his."

And in this way he is as grim and unyielding as Napoleon. I have never met so astounding a man. Apart from his work, he is gracious and kind. But as a doctor he is like cold, shining steel and has all the unpitying hardness of science.

I looked into a father's face and there were tears in his eyes.

"Doctor," he begged, "will you not give the medicine to my daughter?"

The doctor's eyes flashed.

"I cannot," he said. "When the other doctor gives up her case, admits that he cannot cure her, then I will treat her."

The father went out, inexpressibly sad.

Then Dr. Friedman explained.

"This other doctor," he said, mentioning the name of one of the greatest scientists of Germany, "is standing in the way of my discovery. I must remove such obstacles as soon as I can, in the name of humanity."

I have taken a number of trips with this grim scientist in the slums of Berlin, and I have seen many patients in his offices, but I have never seen him pass a child without pinching its cheek and smiling at it.

He has been too busy to be married; the tuberculosis germ wouldn't let him.

He is not strong physically; he has often told his intimate friends that he has worked so hard and has so much hard work ahead of him that he does not expect to live bevond 45.

He is so wraptup in his work that there are many days when he does not eat.

GIRL TELLS HER STORY TO COURT

Father of Hatfield Child Denounces His Wife at Logansport.

UNCLES VISIT JAIL

Logansport, Ind., Dec. 18.—Bitter denunciation of Mrs. James Hatfield, of Thornhope, by her heart-broken husband, the attempt of two brothers of James Hatfield, heavily armed, to obtain admission to the county jail, and the repetition by Lena Hatfield to the juvenile court of her story told the grand jury last week marked the first day's proceedings in the investigation of the charges against Mrs. James Hatfield and George Durton, charged with abusing the Hatfield girl.

The girl was almost in a state of collapse when brought to juvenile court this morning from the Orphans' home, where she has been sequestered under the charge of the board of children's guardians ever since the evening she detailed to the grand jury circumstances upon which the charges against her step-mother and Durton are based.

Fears Father Disbelieved.

The girls' condition today was due to the report that her father, doubting the truth of her statements, had retained attorneys to defend her stepmother. When State's Attorney Fansler heard from the girl the cause of her grief, he called her into an anteroom, where her father was seated.

"Hatfield, have you retained an attorney to defend your wife against the charges made by your daughter?" inquired the prosecutor.

"To defend her?" cried Hatfield. "No, sir; I will give every assistance to send her and Durton to the penitentiary. If money is needed to hire more lawyers I'll get it."

The girl was then taken before Judge Lairy, in juvenile court, where her testimony was taken in secret, none being allowed in the room save those interested in the case.

Kept Under Guard.

At the conclusion of the hearing the girl was sent to St. Joseph hospital, where she will be held under order of the court until called upon to testify. Instructions have been issued to the hospital authorities by the court to permit no one to visit the girl under danger of being held in contempt of court.

While the girl's testimony was being taken in juvenile court her two uncles, Charles and Stephen Hatfield, of Thornhope, sought to gain access to the county jail. In the corridor of the court house they inquired of a friend whether or not the sheriff searched visitors before letting them into the jail.

Deputy Prosecutor Foskett overheard the question and notified Turnkey Harness to be on the alert. A few minutes later the men presented themselves in the jail lobby and asked permission to see Durton. Harness searched the men and found each to be heavily armed. They were denied admission to the jail, but were not taken into custody after promising to quit the city immediately and return to their homes.

GIVE MARSHALL A CANE.

Railroad Men Show Appreciation of Governor's Stand.

Indianapolis, Dec. 18.—A gold-headed cane was presented Governor Thomas R. Marshall yesterday by several firemen and enginemen representing the legislative board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen of Indiana. They expressed their thanks for the interest the governor had manifested in legislation they had proposed during the last four years. In replying to the presentation speech Governor Marshall said:

"If I should ever get weak-kneed on propositions in which you men are interested, I will remember that I have the staff of honest men to lean upon."

SCENES FROM THE LIFE OF CHRIST

11—JESUS PREACHING FROM THE SHIP.

And he began to teach by the sea side, and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he entered into a ship, and sat in the sea; and the whole multitude was by the sea on the land. And he taught them many things in parables.—Mark iv:1-2.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORING TOWNS

YOUNG MAN ROBBED SALVATION ARMY

Gross Ingratitude to the Benefactors Who Had Extended Him the Helping Hand.

Peru, Ind., Dec. 18.—Captain Claspel, of the local Salvation Army, is on the lookout for a young man named Andrew Maxwell who left suddenly Monday evening with something like twenty dollars belonging to the Salvation Army. Seventeen dollars of the money was stolen from the headquarters on South Broadway and the rest was taken from one of the street kettles.

According to Captain Claspel, Maxwell, who appears to be about 22 years of age, called at the Salvation Army headquarters several days ago. He gave a hard luck story and the captain took him in, gave him clothes and fed and provided sleeping quarters for him. Later he was placed in charge of one of the kettles on the streets.

HOAGLAND COMPANY ELECTS.

Horse Insurance Company Has Had Prosperous Existence.

The annual meeting of the Hoagland Mutual Horse Insurance association was held Tuesday at the Hoagland school house and officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

President, C. F. Hubler; vice president, Fred F. Lepper; secretary, Martin Hoffman; treasurer, William F. Grodrian; field men, Charles Oetting, Ellis McIntosh, Fred Hoffman and Fred Lepper.

The company has been in existence for three years and is in a very prosperous condition, shown by the reports of the secretary and treasurer. The members attribute the success of the organization to its low rate of insurance. All losses have been paid since the company was formed and the rate has been but $2.33 on each $100 of insurance carried.

BROTHER DIED IN OREGON.

Warsaw, Ind., Dec. 18.—Mrs. J. A. Peterson has received news of the death of her brother, W. R. Harper, which occurred December 10, at the Soldiers' Home, Roseburg, Oregon. Mr. Harper was the son of Thomas R. Harper and was born at Leesburg, Ind., June 2, 1846, at which place he spent his early manhood. In 1847 he left for the west and engaged in the mining business. He was a soldier in the war of the Rebellion.

MISS BURRIS IS GAME TO FINISH

Indianapolis Girl Wheels aMn Twice Her Weight in Paying Wager.

MINOR STATE NEWS

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 18.—Miss Nina Burris, who weighs 100 pounds yesterday paid an election bet by wheeling Henry A. Harmon, state senator-elect twice her weight, through the Illinois street tunnel under the Union station. Mr. Harmon was willing to forego the pleasure, but the young woman who is a republican insisted that she would "stand pat" even though defeated. Her hands were blistered badly when the wheel barrow was forced up the street level before the curious gaze of hundreds of persons.

GUNNES TRIAL REVIVED.

Laporte, Ind., Dec. 18.—The story that Mrs. Belle Gunness, on whose farm the bodies of thirteen persons, believed to have been murdered, were found, did not die in the fire which destroyed her home early in 1908, was revived today. Charles Meyers, alias Reed, a paroled convict from the Michigan City State prison said that Ray Lamphere, now dead, who was a prison mate of his and who was convicted of burning the Gunness residence, told him Mrs. Gunness escaped in an automobile, which headed for Chicago and carried a tin box filled with money.

HAD REFUSED TO EAT.

Wabash, Ind., Dec. 18.—John Williams Colbert, forty-six, is dead here, having refused to eat for the past eight days. He had been blind for many years, but only recently he learned that his sight could not be restored. He became melancholy and told friends that he would prefer death to a sightless life.

PROBABLY FATALLY HURT.

Martinsville, Ind., Dec. 18—Eli Thomas, county commissioner-elect, probably was fatally injured yesterday when he was thrown accidentally from a farm wagon. It is thought that his spine is broken.

A hog, which was in the wagon was thrown to the front end of the bed when the horses stopped suddenly, bumped against the seat and knocked Mr. Thomas to the ground. He had lain beside the wagon for more than two hours when picked up by neighbors.

THIEVES WORK ON TRAIN.

Valparaiso, Ind., Dec. 18.—Thieves who worked on a Grand Trunk train yesterday relieved passengers of $175 in money and watches and tickets worth $75. The losses were not discovered until the train arrived in this city.

KEEP WATCH ON WOMAN.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 18.—Detectives are keeping close watch on an Indianapolis woman whose identity is being kept a secret, who is to appear as one of the principal witnesses in the arson cases in which Ben Kahn and Ben Franklin are being held. The police say they fear an attempt will be made to get the woman out of the jurisdiction of the Indiana courts. They say they expect to make several more arrests in a few days.

MISSING MAN LOCATED

Indianapolis, Dec. 18.—James Johnson, 22, who has been missing from his home in Lowell, Mich., for several months and for whom his father, F. M. Johnson has been searching was located today at New Castle, Ind., through the means of a "want" advertisement. Johnson is a printer and has been working for a New Castle paper under the name of Charley Thomas. The father heard from his son last while he was at Muncie

WIFE WON IN TWO HOURS. —

German Nobleman Accepted by American Girl at First Meeting.

New York, Dec. 18.—Those German barons are not so slow as lovemakers. How the Baron H. E. VonScholtheim, an officer in the kaiser's hussars, won an American girl's heart and hand in two hours was told by the baron and baroness on their arrival in New York recently.

Baroness VonScholtheim was Miss Paine of Baltimore. She was with her mother at Weisbaden eighteen months ago. The baron was introduced. Two hours later the baron and Miss Paine were married.

"It was a case of love at first sight," explained the baroness. "He proposed marriage almost immediately, but a little time was necessary for the arrangements for the ceremony.

The baron is a typical German soldier, vigirous and erect. His wife is proud of his position as an officer in a hussar regiment.

The baron was much surprised that he did not see any Indians upon arriving. His wife laughed at his apparent ignorance, however, and told him his only chance to see aborigines in the east would be in a wild west show.

If you are troubled with chronic constipation, the mild and gentle effect of Chamberlain's Tablets makes them especially suited to your case. For sale by all druggists.—Adv.

If you have any empty tubs and cans in your way, call us and we will get them before December 25th. Get your order in early.

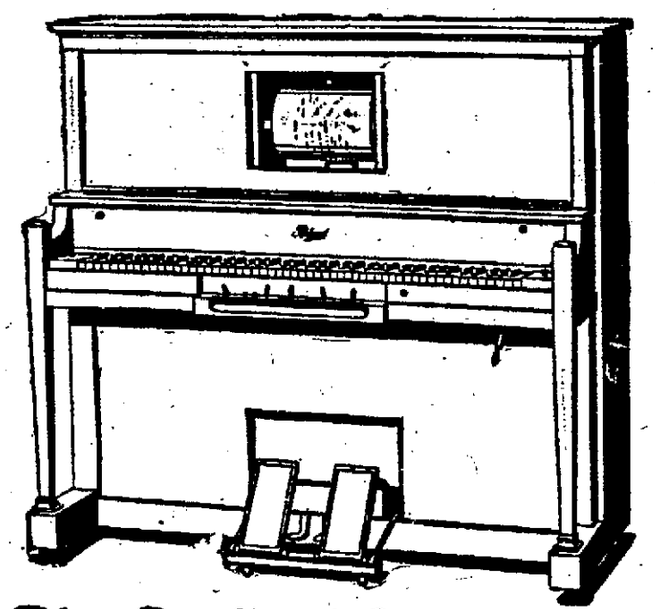
A CHRISTMAS SUGGESTION



The Packard Intrepreter

The New Idea---Not Automatic

You'll enjoy playing the Packard Interpreting Piano, because you must furnish the expression. There are no patented mechanical devices to enable you to give an automatic reproduction of a composition.

Inspiration vs. Manipulation

An interpretation that is an imitation, robs the performer of the pleasure of personally producing music, the listeners of your individuality, and is always monotonous.

Will Have Rough Sledding.

Whether Indiana is ready for the proposed mother's pension measure which the next legislature will be asked to enact into law or not, it now seems certain that the proposed law will have extremely rough sledding, and that in all probability the opposition will be sufficient to delay its enactment for a period of two years if not to kill it altogether. Primarily, of course, the intent of the law is that the state shall supply financial aid to deserving widows left with dependent children, upon the principle that the preservation of the home life will make for infinitely better citizenship than if the litle ones are sent to the charitable institutions for the sole reason that the mother is unable to keep her little brood together.

It is a significant fact that the most pronounced opposition to the new measure is coming from organized charity. Twenty Indiana secretaries are said to have but recently expressed the belief that there is at this time no pressing need for such a law in this state. The declarations were in response to inquiries sent out from Indianapolis, and the same source is authority for the statement that not one of the organizations over the state had declared for it. Secretary Amos W. Butler, of the board of state charities, is pronounced in his opposition to the measure, and takes the position that the present township poor relief law is entirely adequate to deal with Indiana cases. The widow's pension idea is advanced in its type, and one of the chief arguments advanced against it in Indiana is that it has not been sufficiently tested out in other states to determine its practicability, and that it opens the way for imposition and abuse of the public benefactions. The prospect for favorable action upon the proposed measure in Indiana at this time is an extremely dubious one.

President-elect Wilson, home from Bermuda, and plunged into the intricacies of his job as governor of New Jersey, is manifesting a pronounced variety of deliberation about the appointments he is going to make as president. It begins to look much as if certain eminent democrats who were expecting to find cabinet portfolios in their stockings on Christmas morning are about to have their faith in Santa Claus put to an extremely rigorous test.

The death of Prof. J. H. Ungemach, after an honorable and useful career of forty years as an instructor in St. Paul's Lutheran school, takes from the scene of earthly activity not only a familiar figure in Fort Wayne, but a man who gave largely of his time and his talents to the welfare of others. And the kindly memories of him that linger in the minds of thousands of his former pupils is after all a splendid heritage to be left by any man.

Since President Taft is preparing to leave for Panama it is apparent that he has construed nothing in the November election returns at all reflecting on his well-known addiction to the traveling habit.

Of course you've done yours, but it is plainly apparent that not everybody else in Fort Wayne obeyed the injunction to fall into the Christmas shopping line early.

CONTRARY TO THEORY.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

It has been one of the strongest claims of the advocates of woman suffrage that if the women were allowed to vote they would wipe out the liquor traffic. It is unfortunate for that view that two referenda just held in California should show the result that they do.

In San Francisco a charter amendment creating local option districts in residential sections, where the people could vote to exclude saloons, was voted on last week and defeated in the ration of four to one. In Los Angeles, where the women have a majority of the votes, a very stringent ordinance for the restriction of the sale of liquor was defeated on the referendum by a vote of three to one. It is plain that in either case the women are not at all unanimous against the liquor cause, or else they did not take the trouble to come out and vote at all.

The assertion has been made that the defeat of woman suffrage in Michigan was due to the opposition of the saloon element. Faith in that statement is disturbed by the examination of the detailed vote, showing that over half of the "wet" counties voted for woman suffrage, and numerous "dry" counties against it.

It may be left to individual judgment whether the contrary results in California are due to a different feminine opinion than women are credited with, or whether they were simply due to feminine failure to do the duty of voters. We incline to the latter theory. But either view calls for a revision of some of the favorite assertions of the suffragists.

PRESS DISCUSSES ISLAND POSSESSIONS.

"No Thinking American."

Chicago Inter Ocean: "No thinking American desires to set up another Mexico, or Nicaragua, or Santo Domingo in the Philippines."

"The Filipinos."

St. Louis Republic: "No people have so much good reason to be glad of the passing of trust and republican rule as the Filipinos. No people have suffered so much from both."

"Administration."

Charleston News and Courier: "Democratic administration will prepare the Filipinos for freedom, whereas republican administration has not had that purpose very strongly in mind."

"Invitation to War."

Bloomington (Ill.) Bulletin: "Everybody admits that the retention of the Philippines by the United States is an invitation to war."

"Borderland of Savagery."

Memphis News-Scimitar: "Many of the Filipinos are highly enlightened and are eminently capable of self-government; but we must not forget that some millions of them are still on the borderland of savagery."

"In Status Quo."

Salt Lake Tribune: "The course pursued has been, apparently, only to hold the islands in status quo and wait for some miracle to modernize them and to keep out capital, without which any substantial progress is impossible."

"Refinement of Cruelty."

Buffalo News: "It seems like the refinement of cruelty in American statesmen to stir up the Filipinos and try to persuade them that all they need to do to gain independence is to make a fuss, start an agitation, produce an outcry, and so on."

"Cardinal Principle."

Philadelphia Record: "The Philippine experiment has not only been extremely costly, but it has led us astray from the cardinal principle of democracy that no government of right can exist without the consent of the governed."

A FOOLISH IMMIGRATION TEST.

(New York World.)

Congress is closely dividing over a bill to apply the reading-and-writing test to immigrants.

The enforcement of the immigration laws is in charge of the department of commerce and labor. But we do not find in Secretary Nagel's current annual report any mention of the literacy test as a great saving factor against undesirable incomers. The most desirable immigration we have is that which in many states is taking up their neglected farms; but literacy is no test of this. The most undesirable is that which in undue proportion peoples our charitable and reformatory institutions, but literacy is again no test and would provide no certain remedy.

We shall find a better remedy in the closer enforcement of existing laws against the admission of the diseased, the defective, the prostitute and those likely to become a public charge, under which last year 2,456 were deported after admission and 16,057 were turned away at the gates of entry. Literacy tests can prove nothing as to civic value in a nation dedicated to the work of providing larger opportunity for the poor and ignorant and oppressed of the world.

A BLOW AT TREATING.

(Knickerbocker Press.)

Tacoma, Wash., has an anti-treating ordinance. The license system for saloons and hotels prevails, but it is modified by the prohibition of one man buying a drink for another man. The constitutionality of the ordinance was challenged and the case was carried to the supreme court, which decided that the ordinance was constitutional, holding that it was not an inherent hight to engage in the liquor traffic nor is it an inherent right to treat another where liquor is sold. The experience of Tacoma will be watched with great interest the country over, for it is recognized that the treating custom is responsible for much drinking of alcoholic beverages that would not otherwise occur.

A Smooth, White Skin That Defies Weather

(From The Woman Beautiful.)

During the coming months of biting winds and intense cold, you who would keep your skins smooth, white and velvety, should turn your attention to mercolized wax. Nothing else will so effectively remove a chapped, roughened or discolored surface. By gradually absorbing the weather-beaten cuticle, the complexion is kept in perfect condition, and even the beauty of expression appears more pronounced. If your skin be blotchy, pimply, freckled, coarse, sallow or over-red, why not shed it? One ounce of ordinary mercolized wax, to be had at any druggist's, will completely transform the most unsightly complexion in less than a fortnight. Use the wax nightly, like cold cream, washing it off mornings.

If weather, age or poor health has marred your face with wrinkles, here's good news. You can quickly remove every line by using a harmless, refreshing face lotion prepared by disolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel. The firmer, smoother skin, the more youthful appearance, even after one application, will astonish you.

KANSAS TO AID LAME CHILDREN

Officials Say Cripples Must Submit to Free Operations.

STATE TO STAND IT

Topeka; Kan., Dec. 17.—A new policy of the State of Kansas, to aid every crippled child in the state without expense to the parent will soon be put into operation by the state board of health and the Kansas University Medical school.

A year ago the state completed the building of a hospital at Rosedale for its medical school and at that hospital all cases of any kind are to be treated free by the state. The university employs some of the most skillful surgeons in the west for the medical work and often scientists from eastern states are imported to assist in the medical school work.

The state offeres to take any crippled child of any citizen and give the child the best treatment possible to cure the defect, but now it is proposed to make the sending of crippled children compulsory, either to the state hospital, where the treatment will be free, or to some other hospital, where the parents shall pay for the operation.

To Cure All Defects

The proposed plan contemplates the removal of every defect in a child that science can remove and thus to give the youngsters an equal chance with the healthy boys and girls of their own ages.

The boards of commissioners in each county are to investigate the case of every crippled boy or girl, congenital or accidental, and see that the crippled one is sent to the hospital as fast as the hospital can accommodate the patients and the surgeons can do the necessary work.

The proposed compulsory plan was evolved as a result of the refusal of several parents to allow their children to be sent to the hospital. The state is willing and desirous to do the work now and promises the most skillful surgery in the west and the best care that can be given.

In Topeka, Kansas City (Kan.), Wichita and Atchison there are four boys each about 8 years old and each with a congenital club foot.

Profit by Disability

The boys sell papers on the streets and their crippled condition brings them many added pennies. The parents in each case are poor. In one case it is known that the crippled boy actually makes more money selling papers than his father does. The parents have refused in each of these cases to allow operations that would straighten out the limbs of these boys, and it is charged that one reason for this refusal is that the crippled condition of the boys enables them to make more money than they could earn if the feet were straightened.

Philanthropic surgeons in each of these cities have offered to operate on the club feet free and also pay the hospital expenses to remove the defects. Several wealthy men in each city also have offered to pay for the operations, but the parents have steadfastly refused to consent.

KEEPS AGED CLERK ON JOB.

Reading Suspends 70-Year Rule as Retirement Nears.

Philadelphia, Dec. 18.—The Reading Railway company has temporarily rescinded the rule requiring employes to retire at the age of 75 years, that the company may still avail itself of the services of James M. Landis, the veteran chief clerk of that corporation.

Under the rules Landis would reach the age limit soon, but, because of his remarkable health and vigor, he will be continued in service indefinitely. He is regarded as a walking encyclopedia of railroad knowledge, and as he has been with the Reading since 1860 he knows more about the system than any man in its employ.

When Mr. Landis was called into President Baer's office and told that he need make no arrangements to retire yet, his face lit up and he seemed as fresh as the boy who entered the service of the Reading fifty-two years ago.

50 New Towns Stuck on the Map While You Wait"—And Lively Towns, Too; Railroad Magic Does It in the Canadian Northwest.

ABOVE VIEW OF PRINCE RUPERT, THE NEW PACIFIC PORT OF HE G. T. P.; BELOW, TETE JAUNE CACHE (YELLOW HEAD PASS), N IMPORTANT NEW TOWN ON THE MAIN LINE.

Vancouver, B. C., Dec. 18.—If you ink pioneer days are gone forever, ke a look into British Columbia. ere you'll see wholesale pioneering at beats anything in the annals of r own west.

Talk about building cities in the wilrness! Fifty new towns in one group e to be stuck on the map in the next w months.

Railroad magic does it—that and the t of these vigorous northwestern pioers for looking ahead.

The Grand Trunk Pacific railroad is inging its rails on the western stretch its vast continent-belting system, om Yeyllow Head Pass through the ckies, to Prince Rupert on the Pac. And the eager settlers, without iting for the railroad, are building cities in anticipation; hope and prophecy have already written their names on the map of the future. And the construction gangs, plugging steadily westward, instead of piercing an untraveled wilderness are merely linking town to town.

Traditional methods of city building are reverse. Hotels are springing up in isolated valleys and plains, without a guest yet in sight. Barber chairs and soda fountains are going forward by pack-horse and river raft in a country where shaves are yet superfluous and chocolate sodas an unmingled luxury.

Shoe-shine stands will be erected before there are shoes to shine, and fancy groceries and fashionable haberdashery shops before the customers appear—even before the selling of the building lots on which will stand the houses of those customers. That is what hope and imagination will do for a country.

Two years ago Edson was a tar paper hut; last summer a census showed a town of 1,253 buildings, with building values of $486,000 and land values of $3,000,000.

Willow River, the other day, was only a prophetic ink spot on a map, the whole townsite was bought up by pioneers—mostly Americans. In fact, most of the settlers along the new railroad line will be Americans, who go into Canada because there's better pioneering across the border.

There's nothing left to chance, either, in the shaping of these towns. They won't have to be built over after a while. Scientific pioneering plans them for the future, providing generous space for streets, parks, public buildings and school-houses. There are compact business sections laid out, and separate residential districts, to avoid the slum curse of cities that "just growed."

This is railroad building, too, of a sort the world has never seen. The G. T. P. is breaking all records for construction. Winter will not check the steady advance, but 6,000 men will forge ahead, hewing lanes through the forest, gashing hills, filling valleys, building bridges and laying track between the Rockies and the Pacific.

This final link Morley Donaldson, the general manager, expects to complete next year. Then America will have a new transcontinental artery 3,356 miles long, reaching from Halifax, in Nova Scotia, across the dominion to Prince Rupert, bringing the Pacific several hundred miles nearer Europe and making a new transportation link with the vast commerce of Asia.

Along with this, the Grand Trunk is building great branch lines into the north and northwest, making 5,000 miles in all, one of them reaching to Dawson, in eastern Alaska, and another tapping southern British Columbia.

Wherever the railroad magic touches the empty land, new cities spring up.

Prince Rupert is as yet only a thought taking shape. Soon it may be a great seaport, vieing with San Francisco, New Orleans and New York.

This new region is 800 miles north of the American boundary line! But do not shiver. It is not the "frozen north," thanks to the Japanese current that warms the Pacific slope.

And where construction gangs now startle the big game of the wilderness a few years will see a vigorous, teeming civilization.

PLANS IN INDIANA

Indianapolis, Dec. 18.—Benjamin R. Inman, of Middletown, Ind., former editor and publisher of the Middletown News and who during the recent campaign had charge of the progressive party's publicity bureau, was chosen to take active management of the party's state headquarters at the closing meeting of the state progressive committee.

In addition the committee named a legislative committee to draft and promote progressive measures in the Indiana legislature; voted in favor of complete tickets in cities and towns and arranged plans for the organization of progressive clubs throughout the state.

The state committee accepted the resignation of Monte M. Katterjohn, of Boonville, chairman of the First district. The state chairman was empowered to name his successor.

Following are the members of the legislative committee:

Rev. Francis M. Gavisk, Mrs. Caleb S. Denny, W. K. Stewart, Lucius B. Swift, Carl Mote, George W. Stout, W. A. Bastian, Robert L. Brokenburr, Carl G. Fisher, Oscar L. Pond, Edward R. NINE ARE FIRED BY MARION CLUB

Beveridge in List Ousted by Old Republican Organzation.

FOR QUITTING PARTY

Indianapolis, Dec. 18.—Nine members of the Marion club, a republican organization, including former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, who during the recent campaign aligned themselves with the progressive party, were ordered expelled by a vote of 8 to 2 at a meeting of the board of directors last night. The members ordered expelled as republicans were prominent in the affairs of the club.

The charges against the nine progressives were presented by Schuyler Haas, appearing as counsel for the prosecuting witnesses. Orlando B. Iles and Fred B. Brown, two of the men who signed the charges against the progressives, made verbal staatements of the evidence.

Under the action of the directors the following were ordered expelled:

Albert J. Beveridge, progressive candidate for governor; Alfred R. Hovey, who ran for prosecutor of Marion county as a progressive; L. P. Van Briggle, progressive nominee for state senator, all of whom were represented by counsel, and Harry O. Chamberlin, progressive district chairman of the Seventh district; County Chairman W. A. Bastian, of the Marion county progressive organization; Fred A. Weise, who ran for county commissioner on the progressive ticket; Edward A. Willis, progressive nominee for coroner; Charles M. Reagan, joint senator nominee on the new party ticket, and Samuel Joseph, one of the candidates on the progressive ticket for state representative. He attended the hearing in person and presented arguments why they should not be expelled.

The hearing took place behind closed doors, with a "bailiff" in the corridor.

It is expected the nine progressives will file notice of appeal to the membership.

DEMAND FOR XMAS STAMPS IS LARGE

The Fort Wayne Society Has Already Disposed of 50,000.

SALE IS A SUCCESS

Officials of the Fort Wayne Anti Tuberculosis society are delighted over the exceptionally large demand for Christmas seals, and at this date more than 50,000 of the little holiday stamps have been ristributed about the city. As usual, the chief consumers of the Christmas greetings are the business men of the city, and many of the stores refuse to send out correspondence of any nature, unless the envelope bears one of the Christmas seals.

The stamps were placed on sale this afternoon at the postoffice and will be on sale there during the remainder of the week. The stamp counter is located in the alcove on the first floor of the building. Stamps will be placed on sale tomorrow morning in the stationery department of the Wolf & Dessauer store and at the Lehman Book and News store.

Mrs. J. R. Meriwether, who has charge of the sale this year, is planning to send her assistants to the manufacturing institutions tomorrow, in an effort to dispose of several more thousand seals. It is believed that the sale this year will be the most successful ever conducted and will mean that at a not far distant date, Fort Wayne will have a tent colony where tuberculosis may be scientifically treated.

The proceeds of the Christmas sale of stamps in Fort Wayne is independent of the American Red Cross society. The proceeds derived are to be used in establishing a colony near this city for the care of tuberculosis sufferers.

Still Has Liking for Fort Wayne

Red Oak, Iowa, Dec. 18.—Editor Sentinel:—On July 1, 1900, I left Fort Wayne, where I had resided twenty-eight years, and took up my residence in Red Oak, Iowa. Sept. 12, 1912, my good wife and I made our first visit east to see our relatives and friends in Columbus, Lancaster, and Napoleon, O. On Oct. 21 we arrived in Fort Wayne to visit friends and relatives. I have an only daughter, Mrs. Martin Scott, one brother, two brothers-in-law and a host of cousins to pay my kind regards to in a social way. I must say I was surely astonished to see Fort Wayne so prosperous—more so than any city in the east I visited. The great and wonderful improvements I witnessed was amazing to my view. At its wonderful growth I was delighted, and I want to commend the undertaking of such great progress. Furthermore, I must express myself boldly in the declaration that your city is taking front rank in improvements, far in excess of any other city I visited. I am not flattering, but only telling the truth to the uttermost.

The most quiet presidential election is past. The great republican party went down to humiliation and defeat, with Mr. Taft the worst defeated president in the history of our nation. He deserved it. He should have known he was far from being popular. Teddy was my choice, but being in Muncie, Ind., on election day, I was not permitted to vote. Friends and citizens of Fort Wayne and Allen county, press on in your good work, making your city THE city of Indiana. I hope my next visit will not be twelve years from now, but a great deal sooner, for I always was "stuck" on your city, and may I cling to that notion to the end of life.

One busy woman in the city, who has her home and family to look after besides being a Sunday school teacher and a worker in philanthropic circles, has made fifty-five Christmas presents and has fifteen to finish. That is a story to make the anxious and belated shopper who is looking for gifts from one dollar down in value wish she, too, had begun to plan many weeks ago to put in her spare moments in fashioning dainty and useful remembrances. To be sure this woman of forethought has duplicated a number of things she has made, because in some instances she wanted to give similar articles, but any way it is looked at the number of seventy gifts, all hand made, seems a formidable amount of work. Not many women plan ahead to half that extent.

And They Made All Their Dashing Clothes Themselves, Too!

(Copyright, 1912, by Cecelie Mortimer.)

Paris, Dec. 18.—There never was a season when there were worn so many substitutes for fur as this; and very pretty they are. The pictures I am sending you I had made from some I saw on Rue de la Paix on some little models. Although they looked stylish as many of those on women who were descending from their carriages to the shops, yet I am sure these little milliner assistants had made the ones they wore themselves.

The first one was a collar, muff and bag made of heavy gold embroidery trimmed with what you over in America call Hudson seal. The other collar was of the high Robespierre variety with a ruffle of the lace edged with fur below. The muff was made of the lace banded with the fur at the edges. There is a piece of the lace over the center of the muff banded with the fur. The bag is banded with the fur at the top.

The second was worn by a little blond girl (blond girls are scarce in Paris) and was of strips of Australian opossum with puffs of black velvet at the ends. The scarf was made of the fur and the hat had a fur crown with a velvet puff at the brim.

The third girl's togs were especially pretty. The whole suit was made of brown chiffon velvet and trimmed with marabou. The scarf was only a width of the velvet edged with the feathers. The turban had the velvet and marabou softly twisted about it and the muff was of the plain velvet with a cunning little pocket with a turn-over lap.

Any clever girl could make this set. It is very inexpensive and when wearing it she may be sure that she is wearing the very latest Parisian outdoor togs as the women in the carriages are wearing them over here, as well as the little girls who work and consequently must walk.

ALLEN COUNTY CORONER TAKES ANGOLA YOUNG WOMAN AS HIS BRIDE.

DR. AND MRS. EDWARD H. KRUSE.

Dr. Edward H. Kruse, coroner of Allen county and a member of the medical staff of the Lutheran hospital, was married on Tuesday, December 17, to Miss Geneva Maxfield, a daughter of Samuel Maxfield, of Angola. The marriage took place at the home of Dr. Kruse's mother, Mrs. William Kruse, of 231 East Jefferson street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Jacob Miller, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. An elaborate wedding dinner was served at a later hour, to which about sixty friends and relatives were invited. The house was beautifully decorated with roses, carnations and hyacinths and other blossoms. The bride is an accomplished musician and a young woman of much beauty and attractiveness. Dr. Kruse was graduated from the medical college at Indianapolis and then went to Berlin and was graduated from the University of Berlin. After his studies abroad Dr. Kruse returned to his home here where he has the respect and admiration of many warm friends. He has been twice elected as county coroner. After a wedding trip Dr. and Mrs. Kruse will be at home at his residence in this city.

BACK FROM SOUTHWEST.

August Huxoll, the East Lewis street grocer, returned Tuesday from a six weeks' trip to Florida and the southwest. He says the winter is exceedingly mild as far north as southern Missouri, and that in many places in Kansas the farmers have no roofs on their corn sheds as the weather is so mild that it is not necessary to protect it from the elements. Mr. Huxoll says that when he left Houston, Tex., last Tuesday he saw boys swimming, and when he arrived at Kansas City the boys were skating.

CURE FOR BURNS.

A simple, good dressing for a burn is lime water and sweet or olive oil in equal parts. A bottle of it, ready mixed, should always be kept on hand. A soft, clean cloth, dipped in it, should be applied over a burn, and on this a layer of absorbent cotton or clean cloths.

BUCKSKIN POLISH.

To clean buckskin shoes get 5 cents' worth of whiting from the druggist. Put a small quantity in a dish with enough water to dilute until it is like milk. Apply with an old tooth brush and let it dry. This is cheap and simple.

WASHDAY HINT.

Many housewives will be glad to know that a slice of lemon, cut thickly and with the rind on, if put into the boiler when boiling the clothes, will make them beautifully white. Let it remain in the boiler until the clothes are ready to be taken out.

BE SUSPICIOUS OF ANY CHRONIC ULCER

Any sore that is obstinate or slow in healing should cause suspicion and put the sufferer on guard. Many an ulcer which could have been cured if it had been properly treated, in time, has been allowed to remain open until it became infected with some degenerate poison from the outside which made it a malignant, eating sore. Most old sores come from an impure and polluted condition of the blood and can be healed if the circulation is cleansed and purified of the predisposing cause. To attempt to cure a chronic ulcer with salves, washes, lotions, etc. is trifling with what may become a serious condition. S. S. S. heals chronic ulcers in a perfectly natural way. It goes down into the blood and removes the impurities and morbid matters which are the means of keeping the place open; then the sore is bound to heal. Not only does S. S. S. cleanse the circulation but it restores its healing powers, and aids in promoting the necessary qualities for good health. S. S. S. builds new flesh tissue from the bottom of the ulcer to the outer skin and makes a permanent cure. Book on Sores and Ulcers and medical advice free to all who write and request same.

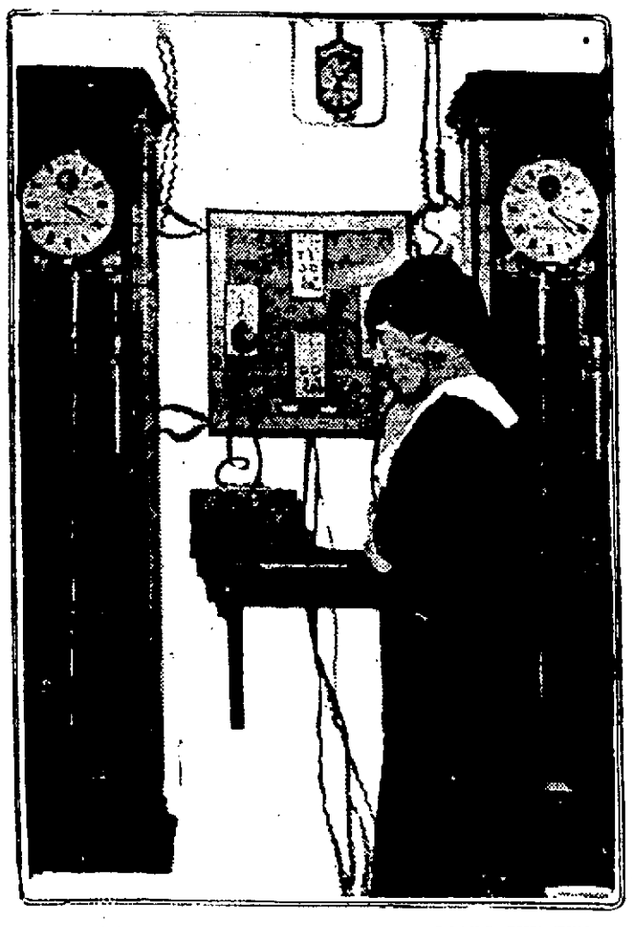
THIS LITTLE WOMAN GIVES THE TIME TO HALF THE WORLD.



MME. CHANDON AND THE TWO PERFECT CLOCKS SHE TENDS.

(By William G. Shepherd.)

Paris, Dec. 18.—Its a wonderfully scientific arrangement by which Paris keeps its part of the world on time.

First, there's the basement room in the great observatory, with its vast concrete floor that never vibrates. Then there are two mechanically perfect clocks. They are timed by the sun and the stars, at which the great telescopes in the observatory domes are always pointing.

Then there are the wires that lead to the wireless poles in the observatory grounds. And, two miles away, there stands the Eiffel tower, 1,000 feet high, the tallest structure on the star on whiche we live. Huge porcelain insulators, as big around as a small keg, hang out from the tip top of the tower, supporting the wires of the most powerful wireless station in the world.

All this apparatus has cost over a million dollars, and the study and toil of many savants and scientists.

Its purpose is to send out to all the wireless stations that can catch the message the clock ticks of the 57th, 58th and 59th second of every hour. Over half the world is supplied with time correction from Paris.

Here's the apparatus:

Now, who does the job?

Oh, only Mme. Chandon.

And she? She is as pretty and vivacious a little French woman as all France affords. She's perhaps just a little over half way through the twenties. She likes theaters and music, and the science of astronomy.

"Yes," said she, when I went down among her clocks, "I do love the stars. But it's not the romantic sentiment that you read in poetry. I love our own star on which we live as much as I do the others."

Then she showed me how, by the observatory apparatus, she ticks off the last three seconds of every day time hour, by wireless, over the sea to lonely ships; over Europe, with its cities and its mountains, giving the world the time by which people are married, buried, born or called into eternity.

Men have been hanged by the time that goes out from Eiffel tower, and kings have also been crowned by the time her small hand clicks out into the ether.

"Some times I think," said Mme. Chandon, "that perhaps the messages go way up to the top of the earth, in places where human beings have never been. And maybe some day will go to other stars."

While Mme. Chandon was talking downstairs and watching her clocks, a conference of horologists from all over the world were meeting upstairs and planning a world-wide system whereby time corrections will be traded among the nations of the earth in order to keepkeep everything in the time line keep everything in the time line been made public, but it will probably provide that Paris will be the time center, in which case Mme. Chandon will give the time to the whole world; and not to Europe alone.

As a student of astronomy in her recent school days, Mme. Chandon proved so brilliant that the French government found a place for her talent and knowledge in the world-famous observatory.

OUR NAVY RANKS THIRD IN WORLD

Great Britain and Germany Exceed Us in Sea Power

SAYS LATE REPORT

New York, Dec. 17.—Statistics of the relative strength of the navies of the world, corrected to Dec. 1 by the office of naval intelligence, have been made public. Contrary to the popular opinion that the United States navy ranks second only to that of Great Britain, the unemotional figures show that our completed tonnage is considerably less than that of Germany, and that when all authorized vessels are completed Germany's tonnage will be 1,124,257 as against our 808,345 tons. This is the result of a continuous building which Germany adopted a few years ago, while our naval construction has been haphazard.

For years the navy department has been asking congress in vain to establish the ranks of admiral and vice admiral. At the time of the Jamestown exposition and the mobilization of an international fleet there it was feared that Hayti might send her one little gunboat with an admiral who would have taken precedence over Rear Admiral Evans, then commanding our navy. But Hayti did not send her admiral and other nations considerately despatched officers whose rank was below that of the American officer.

The tabulation of the naval intelligence office shows that Great Britain has three admirals of the fleet, Germany two and Japan one. Great Britain has twelve admirals, Germany four and Japan seven. Great Britain leads with twenty-two vice admirals, Japan following with seventeen, France with fifteen and Germany with thirteen. Of these three ranks the United States has but one, Admiral Dewey, and the rank dies with him.

The table shows further how much under-officered the American navy is in comparison with other navies. Of captains and commanders we have only 214 as against 664 of Great Britain, 340 of France, 335 of Germany and 292 of Japan. Of other line officers Great Britain has 2,275, Japan 1,818, Germany 1,782, France 1,487. This country comes last with 1,477.

Naval experts contend that for every battleship that sets out to meet an enemy there should be four accompanying destroyers, to afford adequate protection against the torpedo destroyer or submarine attack. Our navy officers have repeatedly urged that four destroyers should be authorized with every battleship, but the tables show that while we have eight dreadnoughts and twenty-five battleships we have only forty-two destroyers, as against 140 of Great Britain, 110 of Germany, 75 of France, 98 of Russia and 58 of Japan.

SHIP GOLD THROUGH MAIL.

New Method of Illicit Exportation Discovered in Africa.

Johannesburg, Dec. 18.—According to the Rand Daily Mail, an extensive conspiracy for the illicit exportation of gold has been discovered. It is stated that for some time past large quantities of gold in the form of ingots have been sent to London, Liverpool, Dover and other places through the post, packed in parcels purporting to be process blocks. Payment was made to a man in Johannesburg who was dealing direct with a wealthy English syndicate. The gold itself was, of course, easily disposed of at one of the depots of the firm in England. The traffic is said to have been discovered by a spy, who spent some months in the gold mines and wormed himself into the confidence of the illict exporters.

DOYLE SEES THE PENNANT PLACED

Says It Will Be No Use to Start if Pittsburg Makes Deal.

M'CARTHY IN DICKER

St. Louis, Dec. 18.—"Hully Gee! If they let Mrs. Britton send Bresnahan and Kony to the Pittsburg Pirates there won't be any use starting the National league pennant race next year," said Lawrence Doyle, field captain of the New York Giants when he heard that St. Louis had offered to trade Konetchy and Oakes for Wilson, Camnitz, Miller and McCarthy.

"With Bresnahan behind the bat, Koney, Wagner and Byrne in the infield; Carey, Donlin and Oakes in the outfield, and Adams, Hendrix, O'Toole and Robinson to do the twirling, Pittsburg would be unbeatable.

"You couldn't pick a team in the National and American that could make that kind of combination hustle. The pennant race would be too one-sided to be interesting. The National league might as well shut up shop after July 1. Interest would peter out and the fans would be driven to other games."

"What truth is there in the report that the Pittsburg club has offered you $10,000 to sign for 1913?" Bresnahan was asked.

"There is absolutely nothing to that story," said Roger. "I only wish it were true. Ten thousand is a lot of money for one season's work on the ball field."

KLING QUITS GAME AGAIN.

Kansas City, Dec. 18.—John Kling, manager of the Boston National league club last season, announces that he never will play baseball again. Kling said this when questioned regarding rumors that Cincinnati and Pittsburg were trying to secure his services.

HITCH IN TRADE FOR GREAT P. L.

Garry Herrmann Says He Has Not Released Frank Chance.

TINKER IS READY

Cincinnati, Dec. 18.—That there is a hitch in the much talked of arrangement by which Frank Chance, former manager of the Chicago National league club would become manager of the New York American team became known here today when President August Herrmann, of the Cincinnati club, stated that he had not released the former Chicago club manager. President Herrmann obtained Chance several weeks ago through the waiver route, and it was thought that he intended that the former Chicago manager would lead the Cincinnati team the coming season. However, Joe Tinker, shortstop of the Chicago Nationals, was traded to Cincinnati and immediately Chance's name became linked with the managership of the New York club.

It had been rumored that arrangements had been completed whereby Chance would go to New York but Herrmann today professed to have no official knowledge of any such deal.

It is not believed here that any hitch in the proceedings has come from Chance and that his release by the Cincinnati club will be granted as soon as it is asked.

Tinker arrived here from Chicago today and it is said will sign his contract at once.

MAUL HAS PLAYED ON A FEW TEAMS
BINGHAMPTON NASHVILLE PHILADELPHIA PITTSBURG WASHINGTON BALTIMORE BROOKLYN NEW YORK
I CAN HIT HIM AGAIN IN THE SAME JOINT
HE HAD PERFECT CONTROL

Making the batter hit at the bad ones was the secret of the success of that grand old veteran, Al Maul.

Maul ranked with Mathewson, Gumbert and Griffith in the quality of his control, and his particular forte was shoving the ball across a bit too high or too low, or a trifle too far in or out to suit the batter, who hit pop flies as a result.

With Maul in the box there was no such thing as "a groove," and when the batters learned this they picked out those that were most promising and—popped the ball into the air.

Today Maul is one of Connie Mack's scouts, and he must be worth the money, for the long manager keeps him at it. His home is in Philadelphia, his native city.

Maul is doubtless best remembered for his work in 1898, when he did yeoman service for Baltimore, winning 20 out of 27 games and earning an average of .741. Maul possessed uncanny control that year and seemed to be able to place the ball just where he wanted to, which meant easy flies for the fielders.

Maul's ball career is interesting. He started with Binghampton, N. Y., in the International league, and was with the same club and also Rochester the next season.

In 1887 he started the season with Nashville and was sold to Philadelphia after he had played in 24 games for the southern city, leading the league at bat with an average of .484.

In 24 games he is credited with 38 runs, 59 hits and 15 stolen bases.

Maul went to Pittsburg in 1888 and remained four years, leaving to join the Athletics in 1892. In 1893 he was with Washington, remaining there through 1896 and joining Baltimore in 1897, in which year he pitched but one game and lost it. The next year, however, Maul was right and was the best of the Oriole pitchers. With other members of the team he went to Brooklyn in 1898. He was with New York in 1901 when his arm failed and he was released.

"Just a bit faster," says Maul when asked whether the game today is faster than in the nineties.

"In my time there were a lot of good players and if I could dig up some of them they would be wonders in any company," says Maul.

Not only was Maul a great pitcher, but he was a cracker-jack outfielder. In 1889 he played 61 games for Pittsburg and led the league's right fielders with an average of .946. He hit .276.

Maul graduated from Philadelphia's corner lots and says he used to steal out of the house to play ball when a lad. He did his ablest work under the old king pin manager, Ned Hanlon.

"Rusie was the greatest of all pitchers. Never before and never since his day has any man been able to touch the big Hoosier boy in his prime," says Maul.

Willie Keeler, wonderful place hitter and hunter, base runner and fielder, is Maul's choice as the greatest player that ever lived.

When such men as Lange, Keeler and Sam Thompson pick Rusie as the game's greatest pitcher the average fan of today may well ask himself, "what sort of a wonder was this man Rusie, anyhow?"

ROBERTSON MADE A GOOD SHOWING

Won More Than Half His Games With a Tail-End Squad.

OLD HEADS FIRST

Just why Wee Willie Robertson was let go by the Indianapolis team when he won more than half his games last season with a tail-end aggregation back of him, is a bit difficult to understand but a lot of things in the management of the club are hard to understand for that matter.

Pitching records of the American association show that he worked in twenty-two games and quit with a percentage of .529. His control was fair as he passed only thirty-one men in twenty-two games and struck out fifty.

As Vallindingham did not pitch twenty games his record is not shown. He is the man bought by Fort Wayne from Louisville and appears only in the fielding record with an average of .963. Ashenfelder, formerly of Springfield, got an even break after he went to Indianapolis. Rebel Keene fielded .962 in thirty-one games at first and Red McKee, also a former Springfield catcher, was third in the backstops with an average of .984 in twenty-seven games.

Former major league baseball players stand out prominently among the leading pitchers and fielders of American association, according to the official averages for the season of 1912 issued by Thomas M. Chivington, president of the organization.

Two former Cleveland pitchers, Krause and Falkenberg, of Toledo, head the pitchers, Krause's name appears first with thirteen victories and four defeats, giving him an average of .760. It was his remarkable showing with Toledo which caused him to be returned to Cleveland in mid-season. His second entrance to the major league was marked by a string of defeats, however. Although Falkenberg is named second on the official list, he was the real league leader with twenty-five victories and eight defeats, a percentage of .758. Falkenberg was with Washington before he went to Cleveland. This was his first year in the minors since he left the American league.

Packard, a Columbus pitcher, suffered the same number of defeats as Falkenberg but won one less so he finished third with a mark of .750.

Rieger, of St. Paul, lead the pitchers in fielding, having a clean record in twenty-five games. He accepted fifty-one chances. "Rube" Waddell's name foots the list. He fielded .816.

Among the first basemen, Jones, of Milwaukee, the old American league player, took first honors, making only twenty-six errors in 150 games and establishing a percentage of .984. Delehanty, of Minneapolis, set a mark of .995 but he participated in only twenty-two games.

Otto Williams, who has been in the association for many years, topped the second basemen with a mark of .970 for 148 games. Rockenfield, of Kansas City, who will be seen in the Western league this year, made a percentage of .979, but he was in only twenty-eight games.

Eddie Lennox, who started the season with the Chicago Nationals, went to Louisville and finished in Kansas City, fielded .955 at third base in eighty-six games. Westerzil, of Indianapolis, set a mark of .968 in nineteen games.

At shortstop McKechnie, of St. Paul, fielded .946 in forty-one games and was listed first. Beaumiller, of Louisville, ranks fourth officially but in 163 games he made a mark of .933. Corriden, whom Kansas City sold to Detroit, and who recently was sold to Cincinnati in the Tinker deal for $8,000, fielded only .904.

Johns, of Columbus, accepted fifty-eight chances in the outfield without an error and obtained first place in his list. Burns, of Toledo, however, accepted 387 chances and set a mark of .979, so he probably should be regarded as the leading outfielder.

Fielding honors in the catching department belong to Owens, who used to pitch in the American league, but who worked behind the bat last season for Minneapolis. In 136 games he made only fourteen errors, setting a mark of .983. Ray Schalk, who came to the Chicago Americans from Milwaukee, made seven errors in eighty games and is credited with a percentage of .985.

The Indianapolis club fielded .955 as a team and lead the league, making it evident that they were weak in the batting department else they might have finished higher in the pennant race. Other teams fielded as follows: Columbus, .953; Toledo, .952; Minneapolis, .951; St. Paul, .951; Louisville, .950; Kansas City, .948; Milwaukee, .947.

THESE BOYHOOD CHUMS OPPOSED EACH OTHER IN FOOT BALL IN EAST.

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 18.—Chums from boyhood, but opposing each other on two big eastern colleges, is the story of Wallace DeWitt, fullback on the Princeton team, and Wesley Englehorn, tackle of the Dartmouth eleven. Both boys learned the game in the Pacific Northwest, where they say football is of a lower class than it is in the east, but Englehorn was selected as first choice for tackle on the All-American team by Walter Camp, of Yale, while DeWitt, although mentioned by many sporting critics of eastern football for a position on the coveted honor, was not selected by Camp.

Both boys are well known throughout the Pacific Northwest for their fine showing in track, football and basketball. Scores of medals attest their prowess with the shot, hammer, discus and the hurdles. Both played on the scholastic championship football team of 1907. Both were all-northwest selections for the scholastic team in the years 1907 and '08. Both played on the same high school basketball quintet which for two years was not defeated.

The two old chums, Wallace and "Moose," as Englehorn is called by everyone in the northwest, owing to his 75 inches of height and 210 pounds of muscle, have met twice as opponents on the gridiron. Last year in the famous Dartmouth-Princeton game, which resulted in a 6-0 victory for the Tigers, the winning points were scored by a long drop kick by DeWitt. After the game the two life-long friends met in the center of the gridiron and shook hands.

That sure is some sporting spirit. To show that the boys have not fallen down in their attempt to grab all the honors with which old "Nassau" and Hanover are laden, may be judged from the following facts:

Englehorn—

Entered Dartmouth college in fall of 1910.

Played tackle in varsity football team in 1911 and '12.

Won the all-New England hammer throw at the games held in 1912.

Put the 16-pound shot 43 feet.

Ran the 120-yard hurdles in 15 seconds.

Elected to presidency of the junior class this year.

Selected as captain of the football team for 1913.

Did all the goal and place kicking for the Dartmouth team.

Is a first-class student, standing high in all of his classes.

Is center on the basketball team.

Is one of the editors and critics on the leading Dartmouth daily.

Is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

DeWitt—

Entered Princeton university in fall of 1910.

Played on football varsity team in 1911 and '12.

Was the big factor in 1911 season, when Princeton beat Yale, Harvard and Dartmouth.

Played on the crack Princeton basketball team in 1911 and '12.

Elected captain of the basketball team for 1912-13.

Mentioned for All-American football team by New York and many other prominent papers.

Elected president this year of the junior class.

Is a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity.

Made more yardage than any other fullback in the east this year, except Brickley, of Harvard.

Did all the punting for the football team in 1911-12.

Made the famous drop kick which beat Dartmouth in 1911, 6-0.

COACHING YOUNG PLAYERS PAYING

Big Leaguers Find the Old Heads Earn the Money Paid Them.

NINE CLUBS FIXED

Chicago, Dec. 18.—Coachers for big league ball teams are fast becoming a necessity. Already seven of the sixteen managers in the National and American leagues have secured men who will be regular fixtures on their teams next season. The other nine team leaders are eagerly watching for the right man to fit in with their teams before they join the fast increasing list. Wilburt Robinson has been a success with the Giants and Kid Gleason has made good with the Sox.

Willie Keeler is to have a regular berth with the Dodgers as a coacher and Joe Sugden is a permanent fixture with the Tigers. Jack Ryan helped the Senators keep up their fast pace last summer, and Heine Peitz was a great help to the Reds, while Lou Criger is to be given charge of the Brown youngsters this spring for developing purposes.

Many a game is won and lost on the coacher's say-so and a poor coacher is about as expensive an ornament on a team as can be found. The good and sufficient reason for such men as Robinson, Keeler, Gleason, Sugden, Ryan, Peitz and Criger holding their jobs, however, is their value in developing young players. Every one of these men would more than earn his season's salary if he saved only one youngster a season. If he taught a new man enough things to make a real star of him he would make up for his salary for at least five years. More than 95 per cent of the young players given chances each year fail to make good and it is seldom a youngster holds a big league berth on his first opportunity, but it takes two and sometimes three chances to get the young players on to the regular teams.

Most of the instructors are needed for young pitchers, but it is just as essential for the young players of other departments to have instruction as it is for the pitchers. A shining example of the worth of Kid Gleason to the White Sox team last fall was given in the Chicago city series when he showed Ray Schalk how to stop the spitball Ed Walsh was throwing. Before Gleason got down on his knees and demonstrated to the youngster that he would have to do the same, Walsh's spitter was getting away from him and the Sox were not winning, but after the lesson the Sox made a one-sided affair of the series.

Kling would have been a valuable man for the Cubs to keep on the team, even if he had not been able to do anything but to develop young pitchers. With Kling behind the bat, King Cole was a grand success, but as soon as the veteran catcher was traded to Boston the tall slabman began to slip until he was of no more use to the team.

Mordecai Brown would have been worth his salary for years to come as a coach for the new pitchers, because he is temperamentally fitted for such a job. The Cubs need pitchers, now more than they need anything else, but Manager Evers has no man on his team to develop them, no matter how good the material is, unless the youngster is great enough to develop himself without instruction. Brown will be a success as a mentor to youngsters if he starts his school of instruction for young college men. He has the patience and the ability to show the youths just how to throw the curves that made him famous and would be of more value to the West Side team right now than any other club because his enthusiasm for the team would be greater than another man from the outside.

Willie Keeler can show the young players more angles to the batting game than any one else, and he will be invaluable to Brooklyn.

The body contains phosphorus sufficient to make 483,000 matches. Phosphorus is one of fourteen elements composing the body—divided among bones, flesh, nervous system and other organs. The perfect health of body requires a perfect balance of the elements. These elements come from the food we eat—the stomach extracts and distributes them.

But if stomach is deranged—the balance of health is destroyed and the blood does not carry the proper elements to the different organs, and there is blood trouble—nerve trouble—heart trouble. Pain is the hungry cry of starved organs. Put the liver, stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition into a condition of health. That is just what is done by

RETURNS TEN INDICTMENTS.

Grand Jury Believed to Have Investigated Greensfork Fire.

Richmond, Ind., Dec. 18.—The Wayne county grand jury, which was in session eighteen days, returned ten indictments yesterday. Those made public charge Harry Denny with burglary of the Birk harness store; John Miller with petit larceny of a watch, and James Kidwell with grand larceny of auto tires. More than half the business district of Greensfork was recently burned, and it is believed that in this connection true bills charging arson have been returned, but arrests not having been made the names are kept secret. Dr. Kerr, a prominent physician of Greensfork, is charged with the illegal sale of liquor.

Schooner Rouse Simmons Is Given Up as Waterlogged and Sunk.

Sault Ste. Lieut. Wheeler, the commander of the cutter, and the owner of the missing schooner, who was aboard the government boat, which unsuccessfully scoured the northern islands, both declared that, in their opinion, the schooner became waterlogged and sank with its crew.

REAL ROMANCE IN HER LOVE MATCH

Miss Gould First Saw Man She Will Wed in Rescue Work at Wreck.

ONE STROKE OF FATE

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 18.—Real romance, with the appropriate stage setting of a railroad wreck in the night, danger, and acts of heroism, lies behind the engagement of Finley J. Shepard and Miss Helen Gould.

It was just a few days over two months ago that fate played a part in the friendship of the railroad man and the Gould heiress. It is said that one stroke of fate did much to strengthen that friendship into more serious regard and to bring about the engagement.

It was early in October, 1912, that the incident occurred. Mr. Shepard, in Chicago on business, was about to return to St. Louis when he received a message from his superior, President Bush, of the Missouri Pacific railroad, requesting him to return to New York and escort Miss Gould to Chicago, whither she was going with a party of her friends to attend a convention of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. The details of the journey were put in the hands of Mr. Shepard and E. B. Proyer, one of the Wabash receivers.

Both in Rail Wreck.

The party left New York in President Bush's private car. It was on the night of Oct. 10 that the train carrying Miss Gould and her party was wrecked on the West Shore railroad. The engine and one coach left the rails and passengers in the other coaches were jarred and panic-stricken.

The first thought of Shepard and Proyer when the wreck occurred was for their women charges. They hurried forward, rapped on the stateroom door, and asked if Miss Gould or any of her party were injured. Miss Gould calmly answered no one was injured.

Mr. Shepard gave thought to those in the other parts of the train. He clambered out of the darkened car and ran through the soft mud to the overturned engine. The fireman was crawling from the wreckage, but the engineer was pinioned by the tender.

He Pulls Out Engineer.

Shepard seized an ax and set about liberating the engineer. He was so absorbed in this work he did not observe two women who stood near by for a few minutes and watched his efforts. One of them was Miss Gould, who had left her car to calm some of the terror stricken women passengers.

Before the railroad wreck Miss Gould and President Bush's assistant had for a long time been interested in the same affairs, and in many ways their tastes were in harmony. Both were interested deeply in the Y. M. C. A. work, and it had been Mr. Shepard's privilege to attend to many little commissions for Miss Gould tending to advance the work of the railroad branches.

SUFFRAGIST IN A WARM RETORT

Elkhart Woman Declares Taxation of Women is Larceny.

MAKES TAX PROTEST

Elkhart, Ind., Dec. 18.—Declaring that taxation without representation is tyranny and that the principle of government which provides for the taxing of women who are technically, legally and politically a non-existent cipher in the body politic is illogical and should be illegal, Dr. H. Lula Hukil of Elkhart, an exponent of the rights of suffrage for women, protests against the payment of taxes in a sizzing letter to William Krau, retiring county treasurer and senator-elect from Elkhart county.

The communication was written by Dr. Hukil in response to notification of delinquency in the payment of her county tax assessment. "I sent it to Mr. Krau because I thought it would have some influence on him because of his being a representative of all the people when he attends the legislature," said Dr. Hukil yesterday.

Asks for Publicity.

Here are some excerpts from her letter, which she asks Elkhart county's senator to present to the state legislature:

"Taxation without representation is tyranny."

"Taxation of women is larceny in the form of law."

"The governmental principle of taxation without representation is illogical, inconsistent and should be illegal."

"Disfranchisement of half of the people of this country is barbarous."

"The laws and customs based on the alleged inferiority of women are fossils, remaining in the minds of men since the dark ages."

Dr. Hukil has previously achieved distinction as a fighter for women's rights. It was she who made a single-handed fight against the board of trustees of the University of Chicago and caused that body in 1907 to rescind its rule against the admission of female students to its medical department. She is an ardent worker for the progressive party's cause, also a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

PUT UP TWENTY FREIGHT CREWS

Pennsylvania Trainmaster Getting Ready for Cold and Big Business.

LAKE SHORE TO CHANGE OFFICIALS

Thwaites Succeeds Horgan as Superintendent at Toledo.

Within the past three or four days the operating department of the Western division of the Pennsylvania has "put up" twenty train crews and hired about that number of new brakemen. The crew list is now at or very near the maximum point, indicating that business is good and prospects for increase are also good. "Putting up" crews means taking extra or regular conductors who had been reduced in rank on account of business falling off and restoring them to their original positions.

LAKE SHORE CHANGES.

Supt. Horgan to Be Succeeded by E. Thwaites.

Several changes in Lake Shore official circles on the Michigan division were announced today to become effective January 1.

J. R. Horgan, who has been superintendent of the Michigan division for the past several years, with headquarters in Toledo, will be assigned to special service and he in turn will be succeeded by E. Thwaites, who has acted as assistant division superintendent for the past two years.

E. V. Brown, trainmaster of the Lake Shore's Franklin division, will succeed Mr. Thwaites as assistant superintendent of the Michigan division.

Mr. Horgan, who will be assigned to special railroad service after the first of the year, is a veteran railroader known to officials and employes throughout the entire length of the Lake Shore system. Several other changes in official circles are expected to be announced before the first of the year.

JUGGLED THE FIGURES

ad Embezzled $3,400 Before Deed Was Discovered.

Edwin R. O'Rourke, twenty-two years old, is a confessed embezzler of $3,400 from the Nickel Plate and is now awaiting sentence from a court in Cleveland. O'Rourke, who was a clerk in the freight house office, resigned and a few days afterwards the shortage was discovered. In the meantime he had left Cleveland and a search for him was instituted. After an absence of several days he returned and voluntarily surrendered to the county officials and acknowldeged his guilt.

GRAVEL TRAIN IN SERVICE.

Wabash Resumes Ballasting of the Elevated Tracks.

The gravel train which the Wabash took out of service a week ago on account of cold weather was put in service again this morning. It gets gravel at Wolcottville and delivers thirty-five loads per day. The gravel is dumped and spread on the main tracks on the elevation through the city. It's a long haul for gravel from Wolcottville as the Wabash brings it. The train travels via Montpelier, O., covering a distance of nearly if not fully 100 miles.

FOUR SHOPMEN IN ACCIDENTS.

Among Dr. C. B. Stemen's patients yesterday were M. Weihart, who received an injury to one of his feet while at work in the Pennsylvania tin shop; H. F. Firks, who had a hand injured while at work at the round house; Conductor F. J. Carto, who sustained a scalp wound and a dislocated shoulder near Columbia City, and W. H. Smith, who received a gash in his left cheek when he was accidentally struck with a sledge in the hands of a shopmate in the Pennsylvania boiler shop.

TWO WABASH MEN HURT.

Dr. C. F. Kaadt, surgeon of the Wabash, was called to the shops yesterday to treat the victims of accidents that were very identical. Boilermaker Homer E. Collins had a gash cut in his chin when he was struck by the plunger of an air hammer and a similar accident resulted in a gash above the right eye of Frank Manahan, a boilermaker's apprentice. Neither accident is serious, though painful.

SICKNESS INCREASING.

The absentee lists at the Pennsylvania shops indicate that sickness among the shopmen is on the increase. The character of the prevailing malady is not serious, however, being principally severe colds. New names on the lists today are J. H. Arnold, J. Horstmeyer, A. Stege, H. M. Barker, Henry Lageman, C. Biner, George Harris and H. M. Telley.

IN INDIANAPOLIS ON BUSINESS.

President James A. Lechler, of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor, has been in Indianapolis several days on business in which the federation is interested. He may remain there a week or two.

HAND PIERCED BY SPLINTER.

Machinist F. C. Weimer, of the Pennsylvania shops, had the palm of his right hand pierced by a sliver from a hammer handle Monday. The first effort to extract the sliver was not successful in getting all of it and as a result the wound became affected and is very painful. He is off duty pending the result of a surgical operation.

SUES THE NICKEL PLATE.

James C. Black, of Bellevue, has brought suit in the federal court at Cleveland against the Nickel Plate, demanding $15,000 for the loss of an arm June 12, 1912. He alleges that through the negligence of the defendant's employes, he was run down by a switch engine and that his left arm was taken off.

GOES TO TOLEDO.

Joseph Bracht, Nickel Plate yard engineer, who is unable to work on account of an attack of rheumatism, will go to Toledo Friday to remain until after New Year's day. That city was Engineer Bracht's home for a number of years and he has relatives and many old friends residing there.

MAKING TRIP OVER DIVISION.

John E. J. Hebert, member of the Pennsylvania Voluntary Relief association's advisory board for the Western and Chicago Terminal divisions, started upon a trip over his territory this morning, which will consume the balance of the week.

TO CHICAGO ON BUSINESS.

Chief Engineer Thomas F. Myers of the Audiffen Refrigerating Machine company, went to Chicago this morning on business connected with the company. He will return the latter part of the week.

RETURNS FROM BUSINESS TRIP.

General Manager F. S. Hunting is in his office at the Fort Wayne Electric works again after a week out of the city on business for the company.

GOES EAST ON BUSINESS.

J. W. Runyan, manager of the insurance and safety department of the S. F. Bowser company, left yesterday for the east on business for the company. He will visit Cleveland and Buffalo.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

A. F. King, assistant trainmaster of the Wabash, was in the city today.

Division Storekeeper C. E. Dale, of the Wabash, is in Toledo today on business for the department.

Supt. W. M. Wardrop, of the Pennsylvania, is in Pittsburg today on business for the company.

Moses Simon, who was sick a week, resumed work at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop this morning.

Alonzo Timmis, a hammersmith at the Bass blacksmith shop, is on duty again after a sickness of several days.

Boilermakers J. F. Romary and F. M. Caskey, who had been sick, resumed work at the Bass shops this morning.

B. V. D. Milliron, of the Pittsburg office of S. F. Bowser & Company, is here on business with the management.

Theodore Fuchshuber, a student at Concordia college, severed connection with that institution yesterday and this morning took a position as messenger in the mail department of the Fort Wayne Electric works.

George Hautch, chief engineer in the Pennsylvania power plant, is taking a lay off to attend to some private matters.

General Foreman J. B. Brames, of the General Electric company, has returned from a two weeks' business trip to the east.

Boilermakers William Vogel and John Speer have returned from Crocker, Ind., where they had been repairing a stationary boiler.

Theodore Schnerber, a boilermaker at the Bass shops, is at Kendallville repairing the boiler plant of the Kendallville Manufacturing company.

Supt. J. C. Sullivan, of the Wabash, came up from Peru this morning and spent the early part of the day in discussing railway matters with the local freight, yard and shop officials.

Peter Hoerner, a hammersmith, and Henry Kortum, a heater, are absent from the Bass blacksmith shop today on account of sickness.

Maurice Steele left this morning for Washington, Ind., where he will be engaged a week or more making repairs in an electric light station.

Terry T. King, of the engineering department of the Fort Wayne Electric works, has gone to Cleveland on business connected with the arc lamp department.

Frank S. Hill, formerly claim agent of the Lake Erie and Western railroad, with offices at Indianapolis and later promoted to assistant general claim agent of the New York Central lines with headquarters at Cleveland, has been sent to Indianapolis instead of Cleveland.

Jacob Waldschmidt, who was injured ten days or two weeks ago, resumed charge of his machine in the Pennsylvania planing mills this morning, having recovered.

General Foreman H. T. Hogan and Gang Foreman Frank Schaffer, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, have returned from Chicago, where business for the company took them yesterday.

Christopher Wyhourn, of the east car shops of the Pennsylvania, is very ill at his home, 337 Baker street. He has been sick for two years and his condition today is much worse than at any previous period of the illness.

Charles Hausbach, of the Wabash shops, who is engineering the Xmas entertainment of Tent No. 54, K. O. T. M., is now trying to get in touch with Santa Claus who is wanted to distribute presents to the children on that evening. The entertainment is open to all members of the tent, their wives and children and particular attention to the entertainment of the little ones is to be given. This is an annual affair with No. 54.

The remains of the wife of William C. Cotter, with members of the family, passed through Fort Wayne Monday night, enroute to Litchfield, Ill., where interment will be made. She died Sunday in Detroit. The bereaved husband, who is a brother to Gen. Supt. S. E. Cotter, of the Wabash, last week resigned as president of the Pere Marquette railroad. He resigned because of the poor health of his wife and it was his intention to take her to Florida to spend the winter.

DECATUR NEWS.

Decatur, Ind., Dec. 18.—Workmen are busy making the new front of the Page Blackburn building, occupied by the Enterprise Drug company. The base will be of marble, supportiing the large plate glass. Fine prism glass, inset in copper, will light the upper part of the window. It will be one of the finest in this part of the state.

Milt Leavell took the place of Postmaster W. A. Lower and George Everett yesterday while these two were attending to their winter's butchering.

The children of Sheriff T. J. Durkin, who were good to Lester Cook, a circus man, while he was incarcerated here on a serious charge, for which he was sent to state's prison at Michigan City, received a check for five dollars from him as a Christmas gift. Cook is employed as stone cutter at the prison and by good work and working overtime, is allowed extra pay, making about six or seven dollars a month. He asked the warden to send the check to the little Durkins as a Christmas gift.

Edwin Fledderjohann and Albert Scheumann, of the Decatur interurban office, attended a meeting of state traction men at the Anthony hotel at Fort Wayne.

Mrs. Anna Laman and Charles Felty, of Youngstown, Ohio, were Fort Wayne visitors.

Mrs. C. W. Lattin, of Toledo, Ohio, came to accompany her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Rademaker, to Toledo, to make her home. Mrs. Rademaker has leased her home here to Mr. Beech, of the Ward Fence company, retaining a room for her own use should she desire to return.

Peter Gaffer has returned from California, Texas and Arizona, where he visited.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yocum are the parents of a fine ten pound boy.

The Presbyterian Sunday school will on next Sunday evening render the Christmas cantata, "The Coronation of Kris Kingle."

DEATH COMES TO MRS. J. W. HENRY

Wife of Well Known Shoe Merchant Passes Away.

THE OTHER DEATHS

Mrs. Catherine Henry, aged 62 years, the wife of J. W. Henry, the well known shoe merchant on Creighton avenue, died at 10:10 o'clock Wednesday morning at the family residence, 2309 Oliver street. Death was due to complications.

Mrs. Henry was born November 9, 1850, in Starke county, Ohio, and was married to Mr. Henry June 2, 1871. In 1877 they came to Fort Wayne, and she had resided here continuously since that time. She had been a member of St. Peter's Catholic church for twenty years, and was also a membre of the Christian Mothers' society. Surviving besides the husband are the following children: George A. Henry, of Chicago; John C. Henry, Mrs. George E. McDonald and Mrs. Henry Burns, of Fort Wayne. One sister, Mrs. Tracy Baker, resides at National City, Col.

The remains will be removed from Getz & Cahill's to the home Thursday morning. Funeral services Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the residence and at 9 o'clock from St. Peter's Catholic church.

RODENBECK.

Mrs. Johanna Rodenbeck, a resident of Fort Wayne for sixty years, and one of the well known pioneer women of the city, died Tuesday afternoon at the family residence, 427 Madison street, at the age of eighty-three years.

MRS. JOHANNA RODENBECK,
Well Known Pioneer Dead After Short Illness.

Mrs. Rodenbeck was born in Lahde, Westphalia, Prussia, October 26, 1829. She came to America with her parents when only a small child and after spending some time in the east, came to Fort Wayne sixty years ago. She was married December 20, 1849. Mr. Rodenbeck died twenty years ago. Mrs. Rodenbeck was a member of St. Jaul's Lutheran church. Surviving she leaves the following children: Emma, Hannah, Fred and Charles Rodenbeck, Mrs. A. Kaiser and Mrs. F. Heine, of Fort Wayne, and Mrs. J. Stoll, of Logansport. Six grandchildren and three great grandchildren survive. Two children preceded her in death.

William Magnus, her only brother, also survives.

Funeral services Friday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock from the residence and at 2:30 o'clock from St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. Jacob Miller officiating.

SCHNORR.

John Schnorr, aged sixty-six years, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon at the home of his brother, Tobias Schnorr, the contractor, 2011 Maumee avenue.

Although in poor health for some time, Mr. Schnorr had been about the house yesterday morning as usual, and at the noon hour enjoyed a hearty dinner. Shortly afterward he complained of a pain in his head, and was assisted to the bed room, where he retired. In less than an hour he died.

Mr. Schnorr was unmarried and had resided with his brother for many years. He came to this country from Germany twenty-six years ago. He was a members of the Concordia Lutheran church.

Funeral services Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, and at 2:30 o'clock from the Concordia Lutheran church. Interment at Concordia cemetery.

MENSING.

Charles Mensing, aged sixty-two years, a life long resident of Allen county, died late Tuesday afternoon at his home, 1809 Mary street. Death was due to paralysis. He had suffered two strokes and had been bedfast for several weeks.

Mr. Mensing was born in Wayne township, near the present site of the Broadway pumping station. For many years he was employed at the Eckart packing plant. He was a charter member of the Emanuel Lutheran church and had long been active in the affairs of that congregation.

Surviving besides the widow are five sons—August, William, Frederick, Theodore and Walter Mensing, all of this city, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Hofmeier, of Lake township.

YARNELLE.

William Page Yarnelle, jr., one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Yarnelle, of 1016 West Wayne street, died at 2 o'clock this morning. Death was due to complications and followed only a short illness. The babe became ill Sunday evening.

Surviving besides the parents and an infant sister, Alice, are the grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Miles F. Porter and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Yarnelle. The mother was formerly Miss Clara Porter.

HUBER.

Oscar E. Huber, the 14-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Huber, of 536 Wagner street, died at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the residence. Interment at Lindenwood.

TRACY.

A two-months- old child of Albert Tracy, a market gardener residing on the Miller road southeast of the city, died late this afternoon. Death was due to pneumonia.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

Kuhne—Funeral services for Mrs. Frederick W. Kuhne Thursday afternoon from the residence, 412 West Jefferson street, Rev. Samuel Wagenhals officiating. Interment at Lindenwood will be private.

Ungemach—Funeral services for Prof. John H. Ungemach Friday morning at 9 o'clock from the residence, 315 Madison street. Interment at Concordia cemetery. Friends are kindly requested to omit flowers.

Pall bearers have been selected as follows: Professors Gerberding, Schroeder, Feiertag, Bredemeyer and Weller from St. Paul's school, and Professor Kampe, of Emanuel's Lutheran school.

Brandt—Funeral services for Frederick Brandt Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, sun time, from the residence, five miles south of the city, and at 2 o'clock from the Franke Lutheran church in Adams township.

Frank.—Funeral services for Ernest Edward Frank, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Frank, six miles south of Fort Wayne, who died Monday after an attack of bronchitis, will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from the residence. Rev. Mr. Franke, of the Lutheran church, officiating. The father is a well known Pleasant township farmer.

Mensing.—Funeral services for Charles Mensing Friday afternoon at 1:30 from the residence, 1809 Mary street, and at 2 o'clock from Emanuel's Lutheran church.

RELIEF UNION VOICES SORROW.

Expression of Regret and Sympathy at Death of Mrs. Foster.

The Fort Wayne Relief union has adopted the following tribute to the late Mrs. D. N. Foster:

"In the death of Mrs. Sara P. Foster the Relief union has met with a great loss.

"Mrs. Foster was one of the organizers of the society and had always been one of its most valued members. She at one time served as president and was holding the position of secretary when her death occurred. Her loss, which is so great a one to the Relief union, is a personal sorrow to every officer and member, who feel that her place can never be filled.

"The members of the Relief union extend their deepest sympathy to the family.

WHICH WOULD YOU PREFER AS A GUEST—THE BABY OR THE DOG?

(Staff Correspondence.)

Jersey City, N. J., Dec. 18.—The baby or the dog—which?

This is the throbbing question over which the society of an entire city is being split into factions, and upon which a sedate judge is giving his most serious thought.

As a matter of fact, this is a throbbing question, for it shows the people of America to what a pass the stork has come in "our effete east," where most of the fashionable women, instead of carrying sweet little babies, are seen lugging lap-dogs under their arms!

The problem is forced upon the attention of Jersey City by a Fairmount hotel against Clinton S. Dow, a broker—a suit which has for its point the question whether Edwina Dow, two years old and very sweet, is a better or worse house companion than "Red Mike," very Irish and very canine!

A few weeks before Edwina was born, her father, it seems, went to the management of the Fairmount hotel, where he had a suite, and asked to be allowed to move into a larger apartment. He gave, as the reason, that he "expected an increase in his family." Thereupon, he charges, he was given to understand that he "had better move, as babies were not wanted."

"'But, I expostulated,' declared Dow, 'that our dog, Red Mike, had never been kept out of the hotel. So why should our baby when it is born? Surely,' I exclaimed, 'a baby is more desirable in a hotel than a dog!'"

But the management didn't seem to think its guests would agree to that, it appears from Dow's testimony, and so, before Edwina was born, he moved. And then, he says, he was sued by the hotel for $80 on his unexpired lease!

In trying the case Judge Erwin, of Jersey City, was forced to hear the testimony of many society leaders who told how they had been allowed to keep dogs in their apartments at the hotel.

After all testimony was in Judge Erwin announced that the matter was too weighty for snap judgment and he promised, after reflection, to render a decision later as to which are really to be preferred hereafter in this country as housemates—dogs or babies.

PASTOR MIXES BRIDES.

Best Man Saves Day at Double Wedding.

New York, Dec. 18.—Performing a double wedding at East Orange, N. J., the Rev. Dr. Fred Clare Baldwin got the brides mixed up and nearly married off one of them to the wrong husband.

The brides were Miss Elizabeth and Margaret Flanders, daughters of William T. Flanders of 81 Beach street. They were married at home, Miss Elizabeth to Frederick Perosns of Upper Montclair and Miss Margaret to Demerest Lufson of Newark. The best man for Mr. Person was his brother, Vanness Persons, and for Mr. Lamson Dudley Case of Jersey City.

Precedence was given to Miss Elizabeth and Mr. Persons. After asking the latter if he would take "Elizabeth to be thy wedded wife," the minister turned to Margaret instead of Elizabeth and got along pretty well with the ritual before a touch on the arm from Mr. Case informed him that he had the right bridegroom, but the wrong bride. Somewhat confused, the minister corrected himself in time.

MANY ARE SUFFRAGISTS

Cause of Votes for Women Shows Growth at Wellesley.

Wellesley, Mass., Dec. 18.—The feelings of Wellesley girls toward suffrage have changed in the last two years. Two years ago a straw vote taken at the college showed a majority of more than 500 who were anti-suffrage.

The suffrage advocates formed a league, which has been steadily growing. Last year a "question box" was conducted, and inquiries on the subject were answered either in open meeting or through the columns of the College News.

This year the membership has increased from 220 to 350, 300 of whom are active members.

There is much agitation concerning the proposed abolition of the "burning of the forensic," an annual clash of the junior and sophomore classes over the disposition of the class president's address. Many of the students support the ol custom.

THERE'S NO HOPE FOR THE $10 MAN

Workers on Small Pay Cannot Secure Good Housing Conditions.

RENT IS GOING UP

Chicago, Dec. 18."The city man who earns $10 a week can never hope to have what can adequately be considered a home. Real estate values are too high for him. Improvement in housing conditions can benefit him little. The only way to help him is to raise his wages."

These statements were made at the City club by delegates just returned from the second national housing conference in Philadelphia. They were unanimous in believing the city situation has got past the point where it is possible to give the poor man a really good home.

"We might as well face the fact that in our large cities we cannot give anything like a home to the $10-a-week man," said Robert W. DeForest of New York, president of the National Housing association.

Higher Wages the Answer.

"No real progress in the housing problem can be expected on philanthropic lines. The solution is not to give the $10 man that which must cost at least $5 a week, but to raise his wages till he can have the kind of housing he should have."

Thomas W. Allison, head of Henry Booth house, pointed out that, though they had seen every sort of housing in Philadelphia, nowhere had they found houses that could be bought for $1,000.

"The only conclusion is," said Mr. Allison, "that we must raise the poor man's wages."

The conference, according to Fred J. Fischel, was a failure in so far as meeting the poor man's problem was concerned.

"The cheapest houses in Philadelphia," said Mr. Fischel, "stand on land that is worth $50,000 an acre. The man of small wages can not pay rent enough to make a return on this investment. Either real estate is too high or wages are too low. The problem is almost impossible of solution unless wages can be raised."

Chicago Doing Pretty Well.

Chicago housing conditions appear to be much better than those of older eastern cities. "In Philadelphia," said Chief Sanitary Inspector Charles B. Ball, "there were 40,000 outside closets with no sewer connection. In Chicago there are only 8,000, and they are in the outskirts, where the sewer system has not been extended.

"We saw a block of almost 14,000 new houses in Philadelphia which had no sewer connections. In many sections there lots have only fourteen feet frontage and I saw one street eleven feet five inches wide, lined with three-story buildings."

Other speakers were George M. Hooker, Professor Howard Woodhead of the University of Chicago, William F. Dummer, Edward T. Lee, Mrs. Edward T. Lee and John C. Kennedy, secretary of the Chicago Association of Commerce committee on housing. All were convinced there should be both state and national laws to force reluctant property owners to comply with proper housing regulations.

GIRL'S DREAM COMES TRUE.

Child Has Vision of Being Lost and Disappears.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Dec. 18.—Officers here and of half a dozen surrounding towns have been asked to search for 12-year-old Alza Mina Blodgett, who disappeared from her home here four days ago.

On the day the child disappeared she told her mother she had had a dream in which she became lost. "Did you return to mamma?" asked the parent. "No," said the girl, beginning to cry.

Two hours later she was gone. The police are inclined to believe the child was kidnaped.

When you have a bilious attack give Chamberlain's Tablets a trial. They are excellent. For sale by all druggists.—Adv.

CARPET CARRIES DISEASE.

Turkish Fabric Shown to Have Spread Typhus Germs.

London, Dec. 18—Is there danger of typhus fever infection in the Turkish carpet? Dr. Westcott, the Shoreditch coroner, said, at an inquest on W. Morton Evans, a traveler in carpets, who died from typhus fever, that it was just possible that Mr. Evans might have caught the disease from handling carpet samples. There were some mysterious diseases brought over in Turkish carpets, said Dr. Westcott.

"The micro-organism which causes typhus fever is not yet discovered," said a London doctor, "but it is highly probable that the bacilli might be carried to England in some such substance as a carpet."

HEARTS ARE CHEAP IN OHIO.

Verdict of $5 in Columbus Breach of Promise Case.

Columbus, O., Dec. 18.—They value broken hearts cheaply in Columbus. In the face of higher cost for everything else there is a reduction in the value of hearts. A jury in the Franklin county common pleas court gave Anna Duehl a verdict of $5 against Harry C. Needham. She sued for $5,000 for breach of promise and the jury, after deliberating twice as long as it took to hear the case, gave one thousandth part of the amount asked.

ANYWAY THE EYES HOLD THE SECRET

Experts Agree, Then Differ on These Signs of Character.

HAZEL EYES HONEST

Kansas City, Dec. 18.—Blue eyes—the best bankers and the worst criminals; the best workmen and the worst husbands.

These are conclusions of persons who should be in a position to know.

Blue eyes, a nerve specialist said, are nervous and irritable. For this reason they make poor husband. Also, such men live long. They have great vitality.

The evidence of the Bertillon room at police headquarters is against blue eyes.

"Now, the Majority of Criminals—"

"The majority of criminals have blue eyes," said E. A. Parker, lieutenant, in charge of the Bertillon room. "The most desperate of them have eyes of a peculiar grayish shade of blue. An illustration of this is found in the case of W. H. Walton, who robbed the Franklin jewelry store. And these eyes look steadily at you, as an inexperienced person would fancy the eyes of honest people only could look.

"Hazel eyes are the really honest eyes. I don't recall having ever 'mugged' a person with hazel eyes."

"There is one peculiar shade of blue eyes that marks their owner as a person of superior intelligence," said James T. Bradley, cashier of the Southwest National Bank of Commerce. "These eyes have an unusual intensity."

"Black Eye, Pick a Pie."

Blue-eyed persons are less active and more honest, according to the superintendent of a large department store. "Our greatest trouble has been with dark-eyed employes," he said. "They are the most industrious, but are more given to dishonesty."

Nor was the evidence of the old nursery rhyme forgotten. You remember:

Black eye, pick a pie,
Run home and tell a lie.

Blue eye, beauty spot,
Temptation, touch me not.

E. J. Fleming, attorney in charge of the city's free legal aid bureau, who started the whole discussion, opened a telegram. It was from St. Louis and asked him to repeat his observations on whether blue-eyed husbands were more faithless than those with dark eyes. Mr. Fleming said several days ago that the experience of his office had been that men who deserted their wives were nearly always blue-eyed.

Fleming Eyes Evade the Issue.

"I haven't any observations," Mr. Fleming said, "beyond what the records show. And I don't charge that men with blue eyes don't make good husbands. I know many of them that are good husbands and fathers.

"But about a year and a half ago the late Graham Robinson was a clerk in this office. He was of English birth, and one day he came to my desk with the inquiry, 'What is the matter with you blue-eyed Americans? Four women have been in here today complaining of desertion. I took a description of their husbands and each erring spouse has blue eyes. I've been noticing that for some time.' He dumped a stack of our desertion records on my desk. In each case the husband had blue eyes. I've been noticing the phenomenon ever since, and our subsequent experiences bear out Mr. Robinson's observations."

Mr. Fleming said he believed his own eyes were brown. But they aren't They are slate color.

PALE PINK PAPER FADES AT NIGHT

Beautifully Engraved Bank Checks Are Used to Defraud

MANY HOTEL FOLK

New York, Dec. 18.—Chameleon bank checks, which appear to have perfectly tinted faces, but which turn white in a single night, like Marie Antoinette, are the latest worry of hotel proprietors and managers and from the warning given the Hotel Keepers' Protective association "they should worry." Agonized shrieks of dismay have been going up from western innkeepers and the trail of the changeable checks seems to lead to Nevada and Idaho, where they doubtless were patterned after the mirage of the Great American desert.

As yet hotel men have not solved the method of making the pink and blushing check fade to the pallor of the beautiful snow. They only know that a breezy, persuasive individual, dashing off a bold signature on the register as representative of several big eastern houses, has passed out checks for $50 or $60, inscribed on delicately tinted slips with some nice bank name engraved thereon, and that delicate tint, beautifully engraved bank title, and penned amount, payee and signature, have faded utterly, like the snows beneath a hot sun or like a dollar tip in a waiter's hand, thus destroying evidence in a perfectly good forgery case.

CULT LEADER IS BACK IN TEMPLE

Evelyn Arthur See, Prophet of Absolute Life, Freed on Bond.

GIRLS WELCOME HIM

Chicago, Dec. 18.—After passing thirteen months and fourteen days in the county jail, Evelyn Arthur See, "prophet of Absolute Life," who was convicted of abducting Mildred Bridges, was allowed his liberty yesterday on $5,000 bonds, pending an appeal to the supreme court.

The bonds were signed shortly before noon and approved by Charles W. Peters, chief deputy sheriff. Mrs. Lucile Bridges, mother of Mildred, and Gust L. Petersen signed the paper which allowed the cult leader his liberty.

Accompanied by Seth L. Crews, attorney for See, Petersen and Mrs. Bridges yesterday morning went to the sheriff's office in the county building and in the presence of Chief Deputy Peters scheduled property and signed the bond. This document was at once sent to the county jail and See was given his liberty shortly before noon. As the "Absolute Life phophet" stepped from the door of the jail he was met by Mona Rees, his "high priestess," and Mildred Bridges. See was at once led to a waiting automobile and driven to the "temple" at 2541 Racine avenue.

At the Racine avenue apartment he was met by Mrs. Bridges. After a few words of greeting to his former followers See retired to his room and asserted that he desired "to rest." Both at the jail and at his home the "revealer" refused to make any statement as to his plans for the future.

"I have nothing to say," he said. "There has been too much said about me and about these girls already. I have not one thing to say as to what I intend to do. I will remain here and wait until my case is heard by the supreme court. I will then be free, and I may have something to say at that time."

"Mr. See will not see anyone," said Mona Rees yesterday afternoon. "We are all very happy that he is with us and further than that we cannot say anything. Good day."

See was sentenced to a term of from one to five years in state's prison Nov. 9, 1911, by Judge Lockwood Honore. He was ordered released on bond by the supreme court pending a hearing on a writ of error and supersedeas.

SIX SURVIVORS BRAVE RAIN.

Tramping Suffragists Admit Stiff Joints and Blistered Feet.

Ossining, Dec. 18.—Braving the rain the six survivors of suffragists marching from New York to Albany bearing a message to Gov. Sulzar, prepared to continue their journey today.

Stiffness of joints and blistered feet, stoically denied yesterday, this morning were acknowledged frankly, by the women when they mustered for the start.

Nevertheless the little band enthusiastically cheered their leader, Miss Rosalie Jones, as she called them together on the Albany post road. Peekskill, twelve miles onward, was the destination of the day's journeys. The roads were muddy, the sky overcast, the air misty, when the march was resumed.

$6,000 IN BILLS STOLEN.

Express Office Robbery Develops at Newcommerstown, Ohio.

Dennison, O., Dec. 18.—When secret service men and detectives arrived today it became known that $6,000 in bills consigned from the sub-treasury in New York to a bank in Marietta, Ohio, had been stolen from the express office in Newcomerstown, near here. The agent receipted when the money was delivered for the transfer and it is said to have been taken while he was busy a few hours later.

GAULT IS AGAIN HELD.

Must Answer for Shooting of Mabel Dunn, of Noblesville.

Maysville, Ky., Dec. 18.—Circuit Judge C. J. Newell has reinstated the charge against Best Gault, the farmer, who shot Miss Mabel Dunn, of Noblesville, Ind., and has fixed his bond at $1,500. The case will be heard at the March term of court. The last grand jury dismissed the case, but so much indignation was aroused that it was reinstated.

Hallow'een night Miss Dunn, daughter of a Noblesville banker, who was visiting friends here, was the guest of honor at a "coon hunt" and with some of the party she was in an automobile going to the meeting place. Gault fired on the automobile while it was passing through his farm. The bullet struck Miss Dunn in the chest and wounded her so seriously it was thought she would die. His excuse was that he thought they were Hallow'een marauders.

BONDS LOWER; STILL IN JAIL.

Court Reduces Surety of Alleged Arson Trust Conspirators.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 18.— J. W. A. Funk of the St. Joseph court today reduced the $20,000 bonds under which Ben Kahn and Ben Franklin, alleged conspirators in an "arson trust" were held. The bond of Franklin who is known as "The Torch" was fixed at $10,000 and that of Kahn at $7,000. Attorneys for the men asked that bonds be fixed at $2,500 each. Neither man has as yet been able to secure his release.

The Entre Nous pedro club will be entertained this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gardner, of Wagner street.

State Board of Education to Consider Commission Report.

Indianapolis, Dec. 18.—The state board of education adjourned at noon today, after issuing commissions, renewing commissions, granting certificates and continuing commissions to sixty-six Indiana high schools and other institutions. A committee was appointed to consider the proposals contained in the report of the industrial and agricultural education commission appointed by the 1911 legislature. The committee includes President W. E. Stone, of Purdue university; President W. W. Parsons, of the Indiana State Normal school, and Superintendent J. N. Study, of the Fort Wayne schools.

Mrs. J. Kennedy, of 2441 John street, was admitted to Hope hospital today for medical treatment.

IN THE CITY'S CHURCHES

GIVE CANTATA FRIDAY NIGHT

Entertainment by Wayne Street M. E. Sunday School.

"SIGN IN THE SKY"

The young people of the Sunday school of the Wayne Street M. E. church will give an entertainment at the church on Friday evening one of the features of which will be the rendition of a sacred cantata entitled "The Sign of the Sky." The cantata is a most interesting and beautiful one.

It deals with the story of the Wise Men from the cuts, who came in search of the New Born King each bringing with them treasures to lay at his feet, and the legend that there was also another wise man who failed to find the Christ Child but gave the richest gifts to God, since he sacrificed all that he had for the relife of suffering humanity.

At the close of the cantata, the Sabbath school classes will come forward to the platform and bring "White Gifts"—for any cause they may choose, and deposit them at the foot of the cross. The music is excellent and the program promises to be of great interest.

CHRISTMAS MIDNIGHT MASS.

The Letter of Bishop Alerding Reinstating It.

The letter reinstating the Christmas midnight mass sent by Rt. Rev. H. J. Alerding, the bishop of Fort Wayne, to all the priests of the diocese is as follows:

"The Christmas midnight mass has in years past been a source of special spiritual benefit, consolation and joy to our faithful people. If your reverence judges that the midnight mass could be celebrated in your church without the abuses that made its discontinuance imperative, you are at liberty to celebrate the same the coming Christmas night. The precaution might be taken to prevent the disorderly, even drunken element, from entering the church at the midnight hour. Then, too, the faithful wishing to receive holy communion at that hour should be admonished not to break the fast from supper time till the communion at midnight out of reverence for the blessed sacrament.

"In case you decide to celebrate the midnight mass, I would be pleased to learn from yourself, if you feel justified to continue the practice in future.

"Wishing your reverence and your parishioners a blessed Christmas and a most happy and prosperous New Year, I remain,

"Devotedly yours in Domino,
"H. J. ALERDING,
"Bishop of Fort Wayne."

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Sunday School Will Give Entertainment Friday Night.

The Sunday school of the First Baptist church will give an entertainment at the church on Friday evening of this week, rendering a playlet entitled, "Santa's Mix-Up." The piece is one that will please. In it Santa is mixed up in the distribution of his presents from beginning to end. He loses his spectacles, his pencil; he mixes his presents and picks up the wrong basket. The piece is filled with merriment and laughter and is very interesting.

All of the children are requested to bring little donations. They will be distributed among the different classes. The primary department is to bring stick candy and dolls and the older departments are to bring books, money, etc. All of these donations will be sent to the Crawford Baptist Industrial school in ample time to be given out to the little orphan children in the school. No admittance to the entertainment is charged.

MRS. GULDLIN SPEAKS IN BOSTON.

Addresses Thousand Girl Students on Need of Household Economics.

Mrs. O. N. Guldlin, who is attending the Home Economics conference in Boston, Mass., spoke before a thousand girl students of Simmons college yesterday afternoon, who applauded her with enthusiasm.

"It is not necessary," said Mrs. Guldlin, "for a woman to cross the ocean and go to foreign lands to spread the gospel of civilization. When I stop to reason it seems to me that all the problems of our civilization can be traced back to the home and I believe that the time is coming when all women will consider it very bad form not to be interested in economics."

Mrs. Guldlin advocated the study of such problems as false standards, housing conditions, food, clothing, the servant problem and the minimum wage, and urged a simplifying of methods and improvement in the standard of dress. Efficiency and training are needed to fit the high school girl for her place in the world and less time to over-dressing and display.

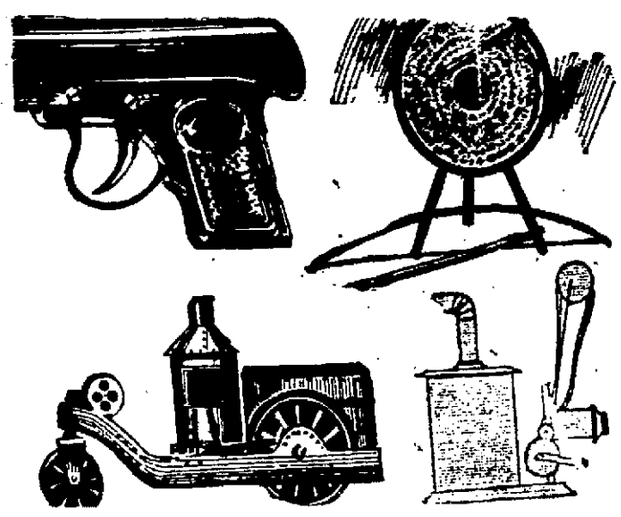
LOOKING FOR SOMETHING FOR THE BOY OR GIRL? HERE'S A FINE LIST.



"What shall I get the boy or girl for Christmas?"

Millions of parents are asking this question.

What you finally get depends upon your boy or girl. The stores offer a world of things and prices run up from pennies into three figures.

For little girls there are dolls, to begin with. And such an assortment! From the stuffed comedy doll, cut out by mother, at 25 cents up to the "creation," dressed by artists, for $50, $75 and $100. Character dolls are innumerable, attractive and cheap.

There are doll outfits, doll houses, doll toilet sets, house furnishings, china and enameled dishes, doll furniture, etc.

There are Humpty Dumpty circus toys, animals and clowns that can do an endless variety of tricks; illustrated books for the littlest ones and story books for the older children; games by the hundreds, some new, the majority old, but all interesting.

Mechanical toys, beetles, grasshoppers, clowns, ducks, automobiles in profusion, many selling for 50 cents and worth more in the fun they produce.

For the boys there are footpower automobiles, single and tandem, wagons and sleighs, scroll saws and foot-power lathes, moving picture machines, magic lanterns and reflectorscopes, steam and gas engines, sail and mechanical yachts, electrical toys, iron and steel banks, tool chests, a ball game—to say nothing of a dozen other games—table archery, pool and billiard tables, indoor air pistol and target, punching bag, boxing gloves, physical exercises and cameras.

Among the imported toys is an electric flash light made to imitate an automatic pistol, which flashes a powerful light from the muzzle when the trigger is pressed. This sells at $1.50 and is guaranteed to last five months before new batteries are needed.

Another is a street roller. This sells at $1 and is said to be the first one shown in this country. Toy automobile garages of heavy pasteboard, with two mechanical automobiles, sell for 25 and 50 cents.

For little ones who have reached the mud-pie stage there are sand toys, with moulds representing fruits. They are made of metal, with Japan finish, and sell from 25 cents to $3.

Plush and cloth dolls come in various sizes, the cheapest being $1 for a set of 115 pieces.

HANDICAPPED BY GOOD LOOKS.

Cleveland's City Auditor So Handsome That Stenographers Resign.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 18.—City Auditor Thomas Coughlin can't get a stenographer to work for him at the city hall. He's too handsome. Prospective stenographers drop in, take one look at him and, as he's a married man and not on the eligible list, beat a hasty retreat.

Mr. Coughlin recently was allowed $60 a month for a stenographer. Also he received considerable notoriety in the papers through a story which called him the handsomest man in the city hall. He thought it would be easy to get a stenographer, but every applicant so far has refused the job after one good look at him.

ARRESTS IRRELIGIOUS SONS.

Father Says Offsprings Object to His Bible Reading.

Reading, Pa., Dec. 18.—Alleging that his sons objected to him reading the Bible aloud at his home and made life unbearable for him when he indulged in such religious exercise for the benefit of the family, Otto Borchers had the sons haled before Magistrate Koch, when they gave bail for a hearing.

In his complaint the father alleged that the sons objected to him belonging to a Bible class; that he received no encouragement from them in his religious work for their souls' welfare, and that they destroyed some of his religious papers and pictures and threatened him.

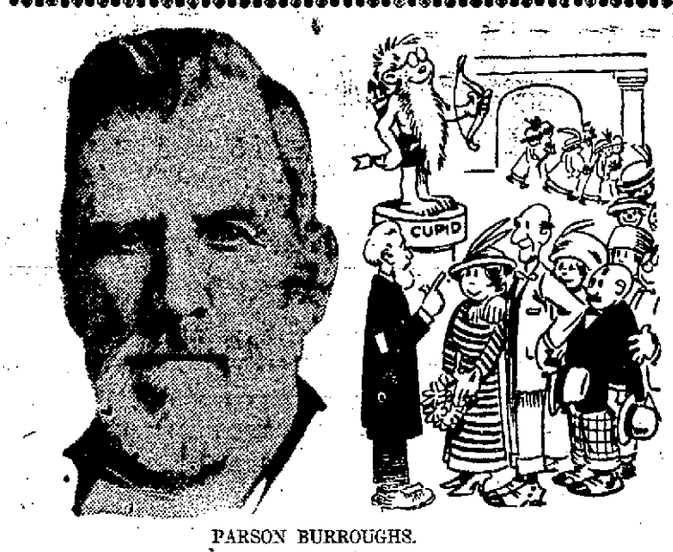
Has Tied 4499 Knots, and Only Five of Them Slipped, Says America's Champion Marryer.



PARSON BURROUGHS.

Parson Alfred Harrison Burroughs, of Bristol, Tenn., has just clinched the champion nuptial knot-tying record. He did it on his eightieth birthday. With that day's work he has made 8,908 fond and loving hearts beat as 4,499.

Of the 4,499 marriages performed by the "marrying parson," all but five turned out well, he says. He hopes to live long enough to yoke the 5,000th couple in the bonds of matrimony, but the other preachers in Bristol are so ruffled up over the parson's record that they are now begging the legislature to put the parson out of the marrying business.

The parson's location is ideal for his work. Bristol is on the line dividing Tennessee and Virginia; his home, or "bridal hotel," is built on the line, so that couples may be married in either Virginia or Tenessee by merely walking across the hall.

Most of the couples are elopers, fleeing from parental opposition. They come largely from Virginia and West Virginia, for in those states parties to a wedding must be 21 unless parents give their consent, while in Tennessee the age limit is down to 16.

The Rev. Burroughs used to be a Baptist pastor. Then he had so many calls from fond and loving runaway couples that he gave up preaching 23 years ago and settled down to make Bristol the champion Gretna Green in the South. He did that. Once he married six couples at once, and there isn't a day passes that he doesn't tie at least one knot.

Of course, the fact that the parson pays no regard to age, and no greater attention than the law demands, has something to do with it. Nor has the parson any scruples about marrying a very young girl to an old man, or a boyish-looking bridegroom to an elderly woman.

"I believe in letting them pick their own mates. It is their business, you know," explains the parson. "and I have learned that the love matches made by the young folks themselves last longer than those their parents or friends engineer for them."

The parson carries his eighty years with wonderful success. He goes down to the depot every time a train comes in. He can pick out an eloping couple with unerring skill and hustles them across the state line in record time.

Once he performed the ceremony while in a carriage with the couple. The angry father of the bride was just back of them in another carriage. At other times he has made two hearts beat as one in the street car which runs along the state line. The couples had to stand carefully then so they would both be in the same state while being married.

While Parson Burrough's aid appeals more strongly to the young people of Virginia and West Virginia, he has married elopers from nearly every state in the Union.

So popular is he—and his hotel, in which every room but the parlor is a bridal chamber—that couples who do not have to elope to become united hie themselves to Bristol, where they may bill and coo to their hearts' content.

A Des Moines man had an attack of friend advised him to go to Hot Springs. That meant an expense of $150 or more. muscular rheumatism in his shoulder. A He sought for a quicker and cheaper way to cure it and found it in Chamberlin's Liniment. Three days after the first application of this liniment he was well. For sale by all druggists.—Adv.

THIRTY-NINE TO RECEIVE ORDERS

Big Task is Created by Suit Against the Evard Highway.

WORK FOR SHERIFF

Thirty-nine men, more than were probably ever embraced in any local court order, will be restrained from doing any work toward the establishment of the Evard road in St. Joseph township until the circuit court passes on a question raised by Henry J., Charles F. and George Buhr, who have entered an action to stop the work.

Forty copies of the restraining order obtained by the Buhrs will have to be made and the sheriff will have to serve each one of them separately and the cost of this proceeding alone will amount to more than $100. The road was established some time ago by the county commissioners, who held the hearing open until 4 o'clock of the day set for remonstrance and as there were no objections the viewers' report was confirmed. The Buhrs claim they were not properly notified of the hearing.

Notes of the Courts.

In the superior court William Engle was granted a divorce from Mary E. Engle on the charge that she had abandoned him.

Under the will of Jacob Hans his house and lot at 1437 St. Mary's avenue is to be held in trust by the Citizen's Trust company until his daughter, Hattie, becomes twenty-one years of age, and she is to receive the rents and provision is also made to retain $4,000 for any assessments that may be levied. The remainder of his property is to be divided equally among his other children.

THEY WOULD MAKE LAW COMPULSORY

Indiana Employers Discuss Workmen's Compensation Legislation.

ORGANIZE A BUREAU

Indianapolis, Dec. 18.—Sentiment for compulsory, rather than voluntary or elective workmen's compensation legislation, was found among Indiana large employers of labor when they met at the Columbia club today to talk over legislation.

They organized in the manufacturers' bureau of Indiana, of which M. W. Mix, of Mishawaka, is president, and Harry Miesse, of Indianapolis, secretary. Today's meeting was that of the committee on accident prevention and workmen's compensation, composed of representatives from each congressional district with former Gov. W. T. Durbin, of Anderson; H. C. Atkins, of Indianapolis, and Clement Studebaker, jr., of South Bend. Many other employers attended.

Among the district representatives are F. B. Von Behren, Evansville; Walter C. Ely, Terre Haute; H. C. Rockhill, Fort Wayne, and Dr. E. A. Rumeley, of the Rumeley company, Laporte.

It was found the manufacturers desire more than a workmen's compensation law. There was a feeling that the state not only should authorize stock and mutual insurance companies to carry industrial hazards, but the state should put itself in position to give insurance if it is desired. There was also an expression for a strengthening of the Indiana state factory inspection service to make it more effective. The manufacturers also desire a reduction in insurance rates.

POSTMASTER AT LAPORTE.

Phineas O. Small is Named by President Taft.

Washington, Dec. 18.—President Taft today sent to the senate the appointments of Wm. L. Distin, of Illinois, to be surveyor general of Alaska, and Phineas O. Small to be postmaster at Laporte, Ind.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

There have been a number of small parties in their honor, of which two of the hostesses were Mrs. Austin Stults, who gave a matinee party, and Miss Rurode, who entertained for the visitors on Tuesday afternoon.

Stephen Burns, a student at Notre Dame university, will come home on Friday to spend the holidays with his parents.

Sol Frankenstein, a student at Northwestern university, is coming home to spend the holidays with his mother, Mrs. Hannah Frankenstein.

TOLD HIM TO KNOCK 'EM OUT.

And That's What He Did to Competing Cash Registers.

Cincinnati, Dec. 18.—A. P. Warman, of Trenton, N. J., former agent for the National Cash Register company, again took the witness stand today at the trial of the thirty officers of the National company, accused of violating the criminal section of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Warman had testified that while he was employed as agent for the National company he was instructed to "knock" out all union register machines in Trenton and that he did so in many cases.

It was expected that Lee H. Counselman, of Detroit, former private secretary of John H. Patterson, would take the witness stand during the day.

Judge Hollister has decided to dismiss court Friday until Dec. 30.

WRECK VICTIM IS DEAD.

Indianapolis Man Succumbs to Injuries at Terre Haute.

Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 18.—Albert Cloak, of Indianapolis, the baggageman who was burned in the wreck of the Big Four passenger train at Sanford, Ind., last week, died of his injuries in a local hospital early today. He was 67 years old and a veteran in the service. His body was shipped to Indianapolis this afternoon.

WIFE SUES FOR $10,000.

Declares Alleged Acts of Defendant Drove Husband Insane.

Huntington, Ind., Dec. 18.—Driven insane by the alleged acts of the defendant, Orval Freels, through his next friend and wife, Effie Freels, has brought suit against Lawrence Meyers for $10,000. The complaint alleges that Meyers assaulted Effie Freels, while the latter was in his home as an attendant on Meyer's sick wife. Mrs. Freels is Meyers' sister-in-law. The complaint says the offense so preyed on Orval Freels' mind that he became deranged and is now an inmate at the Northern hospital for the insane.

SPECIFICATIONS READY SATURDAY

City Has Fully Determined to Collect the Garbage Next Year.

Specifications are being prepared and will be ready Saturday to submit to teamsters who want to engage in garbage collection next year and the members of the board of public works say they believe they can get better results by having them work under city supervision. There have been applicants enough to denote that there will be no trouble getting all the men and teams wanted and while each man will be assigned to a district the contract will be so made that any changes desired by the city can be made at any time.

TURKS REPORT VICTORY.

Send News of Defeat of Greeks at Janini Sunday.

Constantinople, Dec. 18.—A great victory by the Turkish troops over the Greek army at Janini on Sunday is reported today by the Turkish commander there in a telegram to the war office. He asserts that 400 Greeks were killed and 126 wounded. Several field guns, numerous rifles and a quantity of equipment were captured by the Turks.

THIRTY-ONE MINERS DEAD.

Frightful Coal Mine Disaster Occurs at Dortmund, Germany.

Dortmund, Germany, Dec. 18.—Thirty-one coal miners are believed to have been killed by an explosion of blackdamp in the Achenbach mine today. Six bodies have been recovered from the pit and twenty-five miners are still missing. The explosion was so violent that it is thought all were killed.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Dec. 18.—Reading was the weak feature of the market at the opening today, falling a point on the first few transactions. Oil shares also were weak, and both California petroleum and Mexican petroleum yielded ¾. The tone of the market was irregular although changes were small. Steel made a small advance and United States Rubber rose a point.
Operations were on a diminishing scale and except for spasmodic selling of Union Pacific, the coalers and copper stocks, speculation was featureless. Attempts to market stock in which public interest is slight caused severe recessions. Bonds were easy.
The market closed heavy. Reading after jumping four points to 170 slipped to below 167. Union Pacific fell to a point under last night and other shares also closed with slight losses.

duty. They talked as to the price with Eldridge, wanting $10,000, but getting a promise of only $5,000. The next day they delivered the letters to Eldridge to be photographed and received fifty $100 bills.
The statement declared that other letters were wanted and that Winkfield and Stump were given a list of 200 senators, congressmen, judges and governors with the assurance that letters from them to Archbold would be paid for well. For one batch of such letters they claimed to have received $3,000 and for another $4,000.
For the Penrose, Hanna and Foraker letters the statement said Eldridge paid them $7,000.

Were the "Fat Cattle."

"Evidently we were the fat cattle," remarked Mr. Foraker.
In all, the statement continued, $34,000 was paid to the two men. For two signatures of Mr. Archbold, standing alone, they claimed they were paid $500. The statement said the signatures were requested by the two men and they procured them by having Mr. Archbold write his name in an album. A third man joined Winkfield and Stump, it was said, and the three put a large number of letters in a safety deposit vault.
After 1908 they claimed to have disposed of some Penrose letters to a "representative of Mr. Hearst" for $4,000 and made an offer to sell all their remaining letters for $20,000. They disposed of a batch for $3,500 last spring and negotiations have been opened for the sale of others, the statement said.
Both Winkfield and Stump were employes in Mr. Archbold's office at the time the letters disappeared. Winkfield, a negro, is a son of Mr. Archbold's butler.
When Senator Foraker concluded his testimony the committee adjourned indefinitely without deciding whether to call the witnesses Mr. Foraker suggested.
The relations between former Senator Joseph B. Foraker of Ohio and John D. Archbold, of the Standard Oil company, as touched upon in letters made public by Wm. R. Hearst was the subject of today's hearing before the committee.
Senator Foraker had requested an opportunity to appear before the investigating committee. Several of the Archbold letters previously published by Mr. Hearst and later identified by Mr. Archbold as genuine, had been addressed to Senator Foraker and related to legislation or subjects not fully disclosed by the correspondence. Four of the letters Mr. Hearst gave the senate committee yesterday also purported to be from the Standard Oil man to Senator Foraker and two of them mentioned a proposed loan of $50,000.

Foraker Explains Letters.

Mr. Foraker first took up the Archbold letter, favoring the nomination of Judge Burkett for the bench in Ohio. "I was receiving hundreds of letters about whom we should nominate," said Mr. Foraker. "I was supporting Judge Burkett, than whom no more honorable judge ever lived. I don't believe I ever answered Mr. Archbold's letter. I was not influenced in the least by the letter.
"Another letter asked me to oppose the nomination of Smith Bennett. I supported Mr. Bennett, but he was defeated. I don't believe I ever answered that letter either. You senators know a person is flooded with mail about convention time"
Mr. Foraker next took up the letters from Mr. Archbold hostile to the so-called Price corporation bill in the Ohio legislature.
Mr. Foraker testified that the $50,000 sent him by Standard Oil was a loan he had requested from several sources to enable him to buy the Ohio State Journal.

No One Got Ahead of Hanna.

"No one ever got ahead of Senator Hanna, and as he wanted the State Journal he got it and I returned the loan," declared the witness with a smile.
The senator told of his activity in framing the Elkins interstate commerce act.
"If I had been in the service of the Standard Oil I would not have advocated legislation so hostile to it," declared he.
The witness took occasion to say he would leave the original of his letters with the committee.
"I'm not dealing in fac simile photographs," he snapped.
Among the letters produced were some written in 1906 in which Standard Oil sought to retain Senator Foraker in threatened criminal proceedings in Ohio and in which Senator Foraker declined. "I submit that these proofs should be sufficient to show to any fair and unprejudiced mind that I was never employed except prior to 1901 and that my employment then had no relation to anything that was in conflict with my public duties, but had reference solely to the reorganization of the company and its Ohio affairs, with which congress had nothing whatever to do."

POUR WRATH ON PLOTTERS

carried a woman stenographer whom the dynamiters desired to put to death through fear she might betray them."

Eight Days for Argument.

With John T. Butler, vice president of the iron workers' international union accused by the court of being a perjurer and with him and three others of their number confined in jail because of increased bonds, the forty defendants in the "dynamite conspiracy" trial faced the prospect today that their cases would be in the hands of the jury by Friday of next week.
The interval is to be devoted to argument to the jury in which the defense and the prosecution each is allowed four days, and to the final instruments by Federal Judge Albert B. Anderson in ordering the jury to retire to from its verdicts.
At the resting of the case by both sides, after a total of 750 witnesses had been heard and 22,000 pages of testimony taken, Judge Anderson overruled all motions to instruct the jury to acquit certain of the defendants, but the judge stated in the cases of James Conney, Chicago, and Frank J. Murphy, Detroit, and possibly others, "only a shadow of doubt" existed, although he would leave it to the jury to decide.
Besides Butler and Herbert S. Hockin, who is accused as a "betrayer" of Ortie E. McManigal and the McNamara brothers, although himself charged with being a dynamiter, those kept in jail because of inability to procure bonds are Edward Smythe and James E. Ray, Peoria, Ill. The jurors, mostly warmers, have been in charge of bailiffs ever since they were selected on Oct. 3. They are provided with sleeping quarters in the federal building.

Butler is Sent to Jail.

At the conclusion of the presentation of evidence for the defense in the case, John T. Butler of Buffalo, N. Y., first vice president of the Iron Workers' International union, was sent to jail when Judge Anderson on motion of District Attorney Miller, increased his bond from $10,000 to $15,000. Butler was the last defendant to take the stand in his own behalf, and Mr. Miller charged that in his testimony the witness committed "willfull and deliberate prejury."
The dismissal of Clarence E. Dowd of Rochester, N. Y., one of the defendants, was another feature of the closing of the case for the defense. Dowd was released because there was insufficient evidence against him. His release was ordered by Judge Anderson on motion of Charles Hartmann of Toledo, O., the defendant's attorney.
When the defense rested its case District Attorney Miller announced there would be no evidence in rebuttal for the government. Afterward it was agreed that four days to a side would be given for the arguments, and it was agreed to begin this morning. James W. Kool, special assistant district attorney, will open for the government. Mr. Miller will close.
"The defendant, Butler, has been absent from the court room for two or three weeks on pretense of being sick, when I know he has been on a two or three weeks' durnk," declared District Attorney Miller. 'He also has committed willfull and deliberate prejury. In this very court room Butler made the remark that he wished to God he had remained in Quebec when he was there, because this is not an extraditable offense, and on cross-examination he denied he said it, when I know very well that he did say it. I ask that the bond of the defendant Butler be increased."
Judge Anderson committed on Butler's testimony, saying he had sworn to things on the witness stand that he knew were not true. The court sustained the motion of the district attorney. The jury had been excused from the room during the discussion. Judge Anderson remarked that he had never seen such actions as have taken place in the court room during the present trial in all of his thirty-four years as lawyer and a judge. He remarked that prejury had been committed numerous times. He added that "if any gentleman in the court room believes the shoe fits him let him wear it."
Judge Anderson then directed United States Marshal Schmidt to take charge of Butler, who afterward was sent to the county jail. This makes four of the defendants who are in jail, and two witnesses have been arrested for prejury, making six arrests of persons directly connected with the case since the opening of the trial.
The four defendants in the county jail are Herbert S. Hockin of Indianapolis, who has recently resigned as secretary-treasurer of the Iron Workers' International union; Edward Smythe and James E. Ray of Peoria, Ill., and John T. Butler, of Buffalo, N. Y.
Butler, on the witness stand, became pugnacious on several occasions, particularly during his cross-examination by District Attorney Miller, and occasionally he was reinked for making irresponsive replies and for making voluntary statements not responsive to questions asked him.

LIVE AND LET LIVE.

We do not sell furniture, millinery, dry goods or clothing, nor do we do kalsomining or hang wall paper; we leave that to the respective tradesmen in those lines. We believe in specialism and do not endeavor to dabble in every conceivable line of merchandise.
If we had a hundred thousand dollars, or so, we would be satisfied to live on the interest thereof. If we owned a big furniture store we would be happy with the juicy profits. If we owned a big business block we would rent it out and be content with the income derived.
Always having to work hard for a living, we never have been fortunate enough to possess any of the above; however, this is our twenty-seventh consecutive year in the toy business in Fort Wayne.
Twenty-seven years of fair and square dealing has brought me a patronage to be proud of. This season finds us with a stock second to none—ten thousand dollars' worth of toys and dolls—new, pleasing and up-to-the-minute playthings of the best material and workmanship at prices that are as reasonably consistent as a living profit will allow. Articles at prices to please the holder of the slimest purse or the fatest wallet.
Remember, I have the only original and exclusive toy store in the city. Everything on display and price marked plainly, with courteous clerks giving prompt attention to all customers.
You are welcome to call and view our wares. The proof of the pudding in this case lies in the inspection.

WANT BRAND NEW COINS.

Christmas Givers Don't Want Old Coins for Presents.

Fort Wayne banks report a great and unusual demand for coin to be used as Christmas gifts, and this morning, to satisfy the demand, the Old National bank received a large quantity of new gold and silver money, ranging from ten cents up to $20 gold pieces. A large consignment of new pennies has also been received.
Local bankers declare that the demand for new coins this season is greater than ever before, and some trouble is being experienced in satisfying the trade.

NO SNOW IN SIGHT.

Weather Forecaster Palmer Sees Nothing But Mild Weather Ahead.

In spite of the fact that practically the entire northwest is covered with snow and suffering a drop in temperature, no exceptionally cold weather, nor no heavy snowstorms are headed this way, according to W. S. Palmer, local weather forecaster.

Mr. Palmer states that while we might get a little snow, the precipitation will hardly be noticeable, and he sees nothing but warm weather in sight for the next few days. In fact, if weather conditions continue for the next week as they have for the last seven days, Fort Wayne and northern Indiana might experience a "green" Christmas.

Cooler weather is predicted for this evening, but the lowest temperature will not run below 25 degrees.

MADDEN FINED BY BOARD.

Acquitted of Charge Against Him, But Deceived the Chief.

Patrolman Martin Madden was fined fifteen days' pay by the board of public safety last night after it had been shown that he was not guilty of taking $5 from Bruce Adams in the Abdon saloon on the evening of Nov. 6. It was shown he had taken the money and given it to a friend who was with Adams at the time.

He denied to Chief Abbott that he had any knowledge of the case when he was asked about it and for this he will work fifteen days for nothing. The hearing was public and a number of witnesses were heard.

WAR ON SPEEDERS UNDER ELEVATION

Four Paid Fines in the City Court for Exceeding Limit.

CITY COURT DOCKET

Chief of Police Dayton Abbott has declared war on automobile and motorcycle owners who run machines under the Calhoun street track elevation at a speed greater than eight miles an hour. So when you approach that civic improvement, take a squint at your speedometer and beware that you do not exceed the regulation rate of eight miles an hour. You had better put on the brakes when coming down the hill, or you may face Judge Mungovan in the city court the next morning, for a big policeman may grab you as he has been ordered to keep the speed limit within eight miles an hour. Officer Crawley picked up four speeders yesterday who drove under the Calhoun street tracks faster than the regulation allows. The following paid fines of $5 and costs for that offense: Herman Ortel and Lloyd Parr, driving delivery trucks; John Stehle, driving a motorcycle and Arthur Peters in an automobile.

Kohn Gets Soaked.

Morris Kohn, a labor foreman at the Pennsylvania round house, was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail for assault and battery on Anna Smith, a Polish woman, who picked up coal on the Pennsylvania property. Kohn got into an argument with the woman and shook her up so severely that she has been under the care of a physician. Kohn's fine was not paid this morning.

Alleged Forgers Bound Over.

Gerald Miller and Ben H. Smith, charged with forgery, waived preliminary hearing and were bound over to the circuit court under $500 bond. The fellows were picked up last week on charges of public intoxication, but Miller in the witness stand, confessed that he had passed a bogus check on a Calhoun street meat market for $17.50.

Isaac Fritz, charged with assault and battery on his wife, had his case continued for two weeks, and Fritz and his wife pledged themselves to call off all hostilities and make up.

Tom Mooney, a drunk, was sent to jail for twenty-five days. Mooney is a cripple, but gave the officers who arrested him a fight by striking them with his crutches.

William Anderson and James Higgins, two offensive vagrants, were each sent over for fifteen days.

OUTLAW CHIEF IS SLAIN.

Philippine Disturber Meets Death in Personal Encounter.

Manila, Dec. 18.—The career of Arcani, a notorious outlaw chief in the Philippines, was brought to an end today when he was killed in a personal encounter with Lieut. E. H. Johnson, of the Philippine constabulary. The other outlaws belonging to the same band also were killed in a general engagement.

Arcani during his career is known to have murdered seven people, including two Japanese traders, and he with his followers has carried out a number of raids.

The constabulary and a detachment of Moro volunteers are now pursuing the rest of the band.
